Erhard Asks Nuclear Role For Germany

President Confers With Chancellor On European Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and President Johnson open two days of talks today with the emphasis on Germany's efforts to gain a larger role in Europe's nuclear defenses.

The Germans have no nuclear weapons and rely on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a deterrent against what Erhard has said are 1,000 middle-range Soviet missiles aimed at Western Europe.

Erhard was expected to present a plan for expanded control of those nuclear weapons now in Western Europe.

Administration officials knew in advance the broad outlines of his proposal, but declined public comment until after Erhard fills in the details.

As understood prior to the German's arrival, this would involve general support for the British idea of an Atlantic Nuclear Force — ANF.

The Erhard-envisaged force, as understood in Washington, would be a fleet of American and British submarines equipped with Polaris missiles

13 Killed Sunday

Battle Shatters Dominican Calm

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The precarious peace efforts in the Dominican Republic appeared today to have been dealt a shattering setback by a battle between army troops and former rebels.

At least 13 persons were believed killed in two shooting incidents Sunday. Twelve were reported killed in a six-hour battle that raged around a hotel on the outskirts of Santiago, the country's No. 2 city.

There were conflicting reports on the cause of the battle that pitched army tanks against an estimated 125 former rebels barricaded in the rambling, two-story Hotel Matum. Shooting ended following the arrival of 150 U.S. paratroopers of the Inter-American Peace Force.

The violence spread to Santo Domingo, 120 miles to the south, where a policeman was disarmed and fatally shot through the head by a member of an angry pro-rebel mob, one of many roaming the littered downtown streets.

The tensions and threats by civilians in Santo Domingo to bring out hidden weapons prompted the IAPF to reinforce its small garrisons in the former rebel territory downtown.

Shooting could be heard in scattered parts of the capital late into the night. IAPF sources said none of the shooting involved the hemisphere army that was organized and brought here in early May to help forge a peace in the Dominican revolution.

A violent explosion rocked the western part of Santo Domingo at midnight. There was no immediate report of the cause of the blast.

The Santiago hotel battle appeared to dash hopes of reintegrating rebel troops into the regular armed forces — a key step toward creating a peaceful climate for the general election planned for next June.

Angry labor leaders blamed the army and demanded that Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy fire the military chiefs or face a general strike. The president persuaded the labor leaders to wait until he has a chance to investigate and punish those responsible.

The Santiago fighting took the lives of nine army regulars and two rebels, including Col. Juan Lora Fernandez, former chief of staff of the rebel army. An unidentified civilian who joined the rebels inside the hotel also was killed, the hotel manager said.

Thirteen out of 18 Americans registered at the 45-room hotel were evacuated safely to a nearby air base, U. S. Embassy sources said. The other five were not at the hotel at the time.

All the Americans are working on a technical aid project initiated by Texas A&M University at the School of Superior Agricultural Studies near Santiago.

Commodore Francisco Rivera Caminero, the armed forces secretary, said the rebels started the battle by firing on army patrols. Rebel Capt. Jesus de la Rosa claimed the army opened fire on the hotel "without provocation."

Widespread Hunt Pushed For Beaver Jail Escapee

BEAVER — Law enforcement agencies throughout the Tri-State Area today widened a hunt for a 29-year-old Pittsburgh district man who escaped from Beaver County Jail Sunday, using the warden's car.

Authorities in Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and Northern West Virginia were alerted to seek Robert Dourlain, who was awaiting transfer to Western Correctional and Diagnostic Center at Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

He was sentenced Wednesday to a term of one day to life on a charge of assault with intent to ravish. The sentence was handed down under the so-called Barr - Walker Act after a psychiatric examination indicated he was not mentally ill.

Dourlain, of Bridgeville in Allegheny County, made his escape in a 12-year-old car used by Warden Paul Jones. Authorities said he apparently fled while assigned to check an electric fuse box.

Dourlain was accused of attempted criminal assault on a girl in a Beaver Falls parking lot last year. He was to be transferred to the penitentiary early this week.

French Get DeGaulle In Close Ballot

General Given 55% Support; Mitterand Calls Win Mediocre

PARIS (AP) — France settled back for more years of Gaullism today following President Charles de Gaulle's re-election to another seven-year term.

Although De Gaulle's failure to win on the first ballot two weeks ago gave clear notice that his popularity had slipped, almost no one expected the autocratic old man to alter his policy goals. He may soften his methods, however.

In the run-off election Sunday, complete returns from European France and all overseas territories except Guiana and Polynesia gave the 75-year-old president 13,063,134, or 55.18 per cent. Leftist Francois Mitterrand got 10,609,744.

About 84 per cent of the registered voters balloted, a near record turnout.

Mitterrand termed De Gaulle's victory "mediocre" and said he would turn his attention to the National Assembly elections in November 1967.

"All my efforts," he said, "will be to make the legislative elections the decisive engagement which will save the republic from the adventure into which a discounted Gaullism is going to plunge it."

De Gaulle, who begins his new term Jan. 8, issued no victory statement from the seclusion of his estate in eastern France. His supporters were overjoyed that he had pulled out a comfortable margin after his humiliating first - round setback, in which he won only 43.9 per cent of the vote.

On the international scene, De Gaulle faces two items of unfinished business.

One is the negotiations in the six-nation European Common Market, which De Gaulle brought to an abrupt halt last June to block attempts to give the economic community's executive more power.

De Gaulle opposes any move toward supranationality by the Common Market administration. The five other members scheduled a meeting in Brussels today to discuss the impasse. They hoped for some word from De Gaulle that he is ready to talk again.

The second major international item on De Gaulle's agenda is reform of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. De Gaulle has called for an end to military integration in the 15-nation alliance and has warned that if a basic change is not made, France will bow out by 1969. Concrete proposals by De Gaulle for changes in NATO are expected early in 1966.

Peace Offer Turmoil

Administration Hit For Stand On Hanoi Report

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration found itself caught up today in a stormy dispute over its publication of correspondence reporting and probing a conditional peace offer from Communist - North Viet Nam.

The storm overshadowed the central question whether Hanoi had in fact made an authentic approach for a settlement on its own terms and might yet respond to a U.S. request for clarification of conditions in it.

President Johnson could try to revive the roundabout peace exchange with President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam by sending some kind of new message in Ho's direction, but administration officials said today that there had been no decision on any new U.S. action. The secrecy covers were torn from the incident last Friday afternoon after the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported that a new peace offer from Hanoi had been rejected by the United States.

Amid denials from Hanoi that any peace feeler had been sent, Dr. Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence and a left-wing Christian Democrat, one of the principal intermediaries in the affair, insisted that the offer had been made.

His traveling colleague, Prof. Mario Primicerio, accused Secretary of State Dean Rusk of sabotaging the bid. "Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to be blamed," he said, "because he obviously wanted this mission to fail by disclosing in advance what had been done." Later the 24-year-old linguist denied having said this, but the journalist who interviewed him said the quote was correct.

State Department officials, calling the charge outrageous, said the publication was forced by concern for what they contended was a partially erroneous account which had already become public. Rusk was reported angered and upset by the criticism.

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and another who played the role of go-between, said Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" the administration would have "preferred to carry on this discussion in privacy" but was faced with a "crisis of confidence" with the public over the credibility of its peace policy. Goldberg argued the administration acted correctly in releasing the correspondence.

Goldberg said he did not think disclosure of the exchange over peace negotiations would hurt any chances that now exist for such talks.

"I think we would continue to hope that this matter will be transferred from the battlefield to the conference table. So I do not feel discouraged," he said.

"If there is a genuine desire on both sides to negotiate, that desire will surmount whatever the difficulties are of disclosure."

But Dr. Benjamin Spock and H. Stuart Hughes, cochairmen of the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, attacked the administration on the ground that it was "avoiding negotiations (by publication of the correspondence) in order to keep the National Liberation Front (the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces in South

Reds Found Nearing Key Supply Site

Little Action Marks Anniversary Of Viet Communist Groups

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Forces guarding Saigon against Communist terrorist attacks on the fifth anniversary of the Viet Cong beat off a company-size enemy band Monday night five miles outside the capital near a vital fuel and ammunition dump.

The city limits heard the rattle of small arms fire and the rumble of artillery.

The action was east of Nha Be, site of the biggest supply depot of fuel and ammunition in the country.

An American officer said the Viet Cong probe apparently was not intended to get at the dump but it bumped into alerted forces which at first may have suspected this was the target.

The depot on the Saigon River is a critical area for the South Vietnamese. U.S. advisers say a single tracer round fired into one of the fuel tanks or one mortar round hitting an ammunition ship there could set the entire area ablaze. They add that ignited fuel spilling into the river during an incoming tide could send a wall of fire sweeping into Saigon.

Full details of the fighting on the outskirts were not immediately available.

The Nha Be storage area was fully lighted, more so than usual, as though the defenders were taking no chances.

The rumpus in mid-evening could have been intended by the Viet Cong to mark the anniversary.

Earlier in the evening, a terrorist hurled a grenade at a truckload of U.S. soldiers on a bridge on the northern outskirts of the city en route to a U.S. base.

The grenade bounced off the

Legislators Weigh Christmas Eve Vote In Quickened Pace

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Faced with a gubernatorial threat to adjourn the General Assembly, House Democrats plan to quicken their pace this Christmas week.

Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, said over the weekend that it may be necessary for the House to work up to Christmas eve.

The House, ruled by Democrats, returns today in a solo session.

The Republican-controlled Senate has not set an exact time for reconvening, but it will have to return by Wednesday in order to comply with the constitutional ban against either chamber adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other.

Both chambers wound up a five-day session last Friday.

Gov. Scranton, a Republican, said Thursday he may be forced to invoke a constitutional provision to adjourn the legislature before the 1966 session convenes Jan. 4 so he can make interim appointments to key boards and agencies.

Democrats disagree with his contention that he can adjourn the session finally. They say he has only recess power.

The majority leader's an-

Space Rigors Studied

Astronauts Start 3 Days Of Exams

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr., who sailed far enough during their two weeks in space to make 10 round trips to the moon, begin three days of medical checks here today to determine what physical rigors space travel has on man.

People who talked with the astronauts said their main complaint of the 14-day flight was the confinement — they couldn't stretch out. They asserted they dreamed a lot during the mission, sources said. And Borman was quoted as saying that Lovell was dreaming "all the time."

Food on board the spacecraft — some of it dehydrated — got tedious and somewhat objectionable toward the end of the flight, the sources noted.

Air Force Lt. Col. Borman and Navy Cmdr. Lovell, as well as Gemini 7 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford, praised the Titan 2 booster and Gemini spacecraft.

All four also remarked how easy it was to see through each other's spacecraft windows while they were rendezvousing high above the earth Wednesday.

Schirra was quoted as saying that the Gemini 7 capsule appeared twice as bright as the brightest star, Sirius, when he was approaching it and Schirra and Stafford indicated that rendezvous was easier than they thought.

Stafford and Schirra copiloted two small airplanes on Thursday from the prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp, to Bermuda.

On the way, sources said, they tried to fly their two aircraft in formation and noted that it was much easier to pilot two Gemini spacecraft in formation, even though the spaceships were speeding at 17,500 miles an hour.

Persons who talked with the astronauts quoted Borman as saying he thought future spacemen should not have to fly in bulky space suits on long-duration flights. And if a "back up" pressure system is needed, Bor-

British Airlift Oil Supplies Into Zambia

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Britain began an oil airlift to Zambia Sunday as leaders of Kenya, Ethiopia and Uganda called for another African summit meeting to agree on action toward Rhodesia.

The airlift began with the landing of a Royal Air Force Britannia bringing 2,370 gallons of diesel fuel from Dar Es Salaam in neighboring Tanzania.

The airlift began after the white minority government of Rhodesia cut off the flow of oil to landlocked Zambia.

The Rhodesian action was in retaliation for the oil embargo Britain imposed against Rhodesia last Friday to tighten the economic vise on the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith. He declared Rhodesia independent Nov. 11 after refusing to yield to British demands for steps toward eventual African majority rule.

Weirton Man's Death Probed By Authorities

WEIRTON — A 61-year-old Weirton hunter, missing since early Wednesday, was found dead of a 12-gauge shotgun wound Sunday in the Chapel Hill section of Hancock County.

Patsy Porco of 214 Gilson Ave. was found by volunteer searchers from the Hanover Township fire department and Weirton police department.

The wound was in his left side near the heart and apparently was caused by a blast from his own gun, John D. Herron of New Cumberland, Hancock County corner, said this morning. Squire Herron and Weirton police are continuing their investigation.

1-3-Inch Snow Slated, Weatherman Predicts

Light snow is expected in Eastern Ohio and the accumulation may build up to 1-3 inches by tonight, the weatherman said today.

The light snow will diminish to occasional flurries by tonight, the weatherman added. Tonight will not be so cold, with a low ranging between 23 and 28, he added.

The Tri-State District had several light snows on the weekend, including a mild flurry Sunday morning that coated streets and highways with ice briefly. The mercury hit 10 at 6 this morning in downtown East Liverpool and stood at the same point in the suburbs.

Political Machines Hit

Large City Mayors Deny GOP's Charge On Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of some of the nation's largest cities disagreed today with a Republican charge that zooming crime rates can be traced to a surrender to criminals by big-city political machines.

A panel of top Republicans, in a report issued Sunday night in Washington, said municipal leaders "have, in effect, confessed that criminals, not the police, lawlessness, not the law, are in control."

"Insofar as surrendering to the criminal is concerned, we've done the opposite," said a spokesman for Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit, a political independent.

"Obviously, New York is not one of the cities they have in mind," said a spokesman for Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat who will be succeeded by a Republican Jan. 1.

Those comments were typical of the reaction of officials in big cities across the country—that the Republicans must have had some city in mind other than their own. The Republican panel named no cities in the report.

The report, prepared by a coordinating committee task force headed by Robert Taft Jr., a former Ohio congressman, said in part:

"There are sectors in most of our large cities where crime is so rampant that citizens are advised to stay away. Administrators in some cities have real-

Gunman Obtains $51 From Service Station

A gunman obtained $51 Sunday night in a holdup at the Highway Oil Co. on Route 30 just east of the Pennsylvania-West Virginia state line, according to the Chippewa Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Dale T. Johnson, 20, of Hookstown R. D. 1, the attendant, said the unidentified man entered the station at 9:05, brandishing a gun, and removed the money from the cash register.

After pocketing the money, the man locked Johnson in a utility room, police said. Johnson said he believes the man escaped on foot.

man suggested it be built into the spacecraft rather than the space suit, sources noted.

The two Gemini 7 pilots flew much of their mission in their underwear, and would have done it even more if Mission Control permitted them.

Borman and Lovell are scheduled to stay at Cape Kennedy until Wednesday, concentrating on medical examinations. They then plan to fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., to begin eight days of telling and retelling the story of their marathon flight to project officials.

Navy Capt. Schirra and Air Force Maj. Stafford flew from nearby Patrick Air Force Base to Houston Sunday afternoon, after a playful reunion with Borman and Lovell.

Schirra and Stafford were not on hand to meet two Navy planes that flew the Gemini 7 crew from the Wasp to Cape Kennedy.

Instead, Schirra was crouched in a doorway at astronaut crew headquarters on neighboring Merritt Island. When Borman and Lovell walked down the hall, he jumped out and began beating the air with his arms as if the Gemini 7 crew needed landing instructions.

Borman and Schirra had a well-publicized bet over which spacecraft would land closest to its target, the Wasp. Officials said Schirra acknowledged that Borman got slightly closer, but blamed it on an instrument in the Gemini 6 capsule which was slightly off.

Astronaut Donald K. Slayton, director of the Gemini 7 crew, said the bet was called off.

"There was a lot of handshaking and mutual congratulations," said Slayton of the meeting of the two Gemini crews.

The reunion was a brief one. Schirra and Stafford had to leave for Houston only 45 minutes after Borman and Lovell arrived at Cape Kennedy.

Of prime interest to researchers is finding out how much calcium was lost during the space flight.

Other tests will show whether a heart gets "lazy" in the weightlessness of outer space, and how much of a strain it puts on a spaceman returning to earth's gravity.

Some researchers fear that over a long period of time calcium loss could make bones dangerously brittle.

Next time you are making meat balls from ground lamb, you might like to achieve new flavor by adding a little mint. If the fresh variety isn't on hand, use dried mint—about a teaspoon of the latter to a pound of the ground meat mixed with a cup of fine dry breadcrumbs and a couple of eggs.

Second And Third Thought

It seems to have been a very long time ago when Americans wondered if intellectuals should be allowed to take part in government.

But it was only as long ago as President Roosevelt's "brain trust." And lest anyone think doubt ended there, it was only as long as President Kennedy's decision to bring into the government a group of men known only for their intellects—"brain trusters" who never had met a payroll, either.

Distrust of intellectualism lingers on. The announcement that McGeorge Bundy would leave the Johnson administration in February undoubtedly struck nerves still raw from annoyance over the matter.

The issue over it never can be settled. It is chronic in government. There always will be a standoff between those who despise "men who think too much" and those who despise men who do not think at all but react to stimuli the way the knee reacts to a knee-jerk blow.

As presidential adviser on national security, McGeorge Bundy demonstrated the ideal function of intellectualism in government. His job was to keep Presidents Kennedy and Johnson informed about all the alternatives in the decisions they were called on to make.

As an intellectual, he was skilled in taking second and third thoughts about matters most people settle impulsively with first thoughts. Reason was his specialty—the power of the human mind to make objective decisions after examining alternatives.

The issue over intellectualism will not be greatly eased and assuredly won't be settled because McGeorge Bundy demonstrated what can be done with its help. But in the years ahead, all who believe in the power of human reason to come up with something better than governmental knee jerks will point to the Bundy era as an example.

If the two presidents he advised didn't always come up with the right decisions, they at least had the benefit of knowing what was being decided.

The Two-Opinion System

There are times when the two-party system sags and sputters, as it is sagging and sputtering now, with the Republican party struggling to pull itself together after a knockout blow in the 1964 national election.

But when observers wonder what would become of government if something happened to the two-party system, they are distorting an inquiry into a semblance of alarm.

Government would be in no danger if something happened to the familiar structure of the two-party system.

The only danger would be something happening to the underlying principle of the two-party system—the two-opinion system based on the traditional freedom of American citizens to express themselves for and against all propositions.

Nothing is said in the Constitution about a two-party system. But the Bill of Rights spells out the charter of a two-opinion system. "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech or of the press."

Public authority in the United States cannot suppress the opinions of its citizens. Congress shall pass no law to do this, nor by legal interpretation shall anyone or any group arrogate to itself the right to shut off debate on anything connected with public affairs.

This is the two-opinion system.

This is the vital secret of the United States Republic — the sine qua non of American freedom.

Political parties will come and go, as they have come and gone in the past. But as long as the two-opinion system survives, one party sooner or later will crystallize around one group of opinions and at least one other around an opposing group of opinions, as guaranteed and set forth in the Constitution.

Delinquency Is Predictable

How many news browsers must have been captivated by an Associated Press story from Harvard University that juvenile delinquency can be spotted in children from two to three years old.

It is done with something called the Glueck Social Prediction Table, named after a wife-husband team of Harvard educators. The table takes into account the character of the parents, their affection for the child and the nature of the child.

In one test of boys, the table proved 84 per cent accurate. The Gluecks claim it has been made even more reliable since then. But granted that it might become 100 per cent reliable sometime, what can be done about the thing it reveals?

The nature of a child's parents cannot be changed, contrary to wishful thinkers who everlastingly prate about parental improvement. Neither can the degree of affection they feel for the child. Perhaps the child could be taken in hand and changed for the better, but that is doubtful.

In other times, without benefit of scientific testing, our ancestors used to spot children heading for bad ends and croak, "That kid was born for the hangman." The prediction was grisly. It was gruesome. No sociologist worthy of his Ph.D would think of saying such a thing.

But it was remarkable how often it turned out to be true. About 84 per cent of all cases. With a few improvements, its accuracy quotient might have been upped to 100 per cent, if anyone had bothered to keep score.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You mentioned that if anyone wanted to make you happy at Christmas he or she should go to a hardware store and get you one of everything.

Well, Twill, I went to a hardware store with that in mind but forgot to take my Charge-a-Plate and had to settle for less than one of everything.

This, of course, opened the possibility of getting you half of one of everything, but even that would have been more than I could carry so what I settled for was a lefthanded screw fits everything.

You have let on occasionally that at times both your hands seem like left hands, though normally you are righthanded. Thus the left-handed screw driver should suit you for all occasions.

Besides, that, it is especially helpful for tightening screws with lefthanded threads.

The special wrench is really something. I can see you now tightening or loosening all the nuts within reach in the house and auto, and some nuts which are even out of reach now.

That is the beauty of this wrench. It can be used in inaccessible places. Places you can't reach any other way.

Sort of reminds one of some of these mailing lists national organizations get hold of that reach "nuts" all over the country who can't be reached any other way, either.

Every day I am surprised by the mail I get from outfits I never knew existed. Mailing lists with all our names on them are said to be sold time and again to anyone who thinks they can pry a dime out of us.

This raises a constitutional question. Is it legal for us to be sold like that without our having anything to say about it? We should get a cut on the profits every time our name is sold in the marketplace.

In getting this special wrench for you, I am displaying great confidence in your judgment. When you start tightening and loosening nuts, there is no telling where it all might stop.

Just like this literature we get through the mail that wrenches our emotions, your wrench might tighten a nut that should be loosened and vice versa.

To try to put you on the right track I also bought a new augur for you on my way out of the hardware store so you can augur well in the new year, to borrow a line from Gilbert and Sullivan.

Broadcasts about our space flights keep talking about "exact replicas" of the space capsule being used on the ground. An "exact replica" is in a class with a "true fact," "general consensus," "real McCoy," "actual happening," "true reproduction" and "full text."

Do you suppose the day will ever come when the name outside "Liberal Arts College" will be changed to "Conservative Arts College"?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Longshoremen Answer The Challenge

By Victor Riesel

No longshoremen weeps. Not even if he's impaled on a warped wharf hook.

But the other night some dockwallopers—mighty tough ones—did cry. Tears rolled down weatherbeaten cheeks as a group of frail Vietnamese joined with high-pitched voices in singing "Solidarity Forever" around the small dinner table. They are Saigon labor leaders now visiting the United States.

Victor Riesel

They sang, though they're living dead men. If the Viet Cong gets to them when they return home they'll die in ugly ways. They sang to new found brethren, Ted Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association. (ILA) and four calloused-handed union waterfront experts who were about to take off for Saigon in a few hours.

The group included a hiring hall dispatcher specialist, two expert supervising stevedores and a genius at dock and cargo equipment maintenance, mechanics and Hi-Lo operation of unloading equipment.

They are going not only because the port is clogged but because keeping it in slow motion has made so much money for influential Vietnamese war profiteers that nothing could be done until our own military intervened.

SO ROTTEN has been the previous ocean cargo unloading system that the port strangulation finally was called to President Johnson's attention. Thus during the final hours of one convention session, Teddy Gleason was called to the phone by the White House. Speaking for Mr. Johnson, his special crack troubleshooter Joe Califano said: "The President wishes you God speed and success in this mission in Viet Nam."

Gleason, already in Saigon, plans to modernize the port in a month. Califano told him he could have anything he needed from Abassador Lodge or Gen. Westmoreland.

What has intrigued the national labor leaders, who conferred with Gleason before he left, is the refusal of the Saigon government to chop away the rot on the ports which has handicapped our own troops and kept food in unloaded ships holds so long that food rationing now is a possibility—with all that it entails in starvation in the interior and opportunities for enemy propaganda.

Among the Vietnamese labor leaders who sang to the unprecedentedly emotional longshoremen was the tiny Tran Khac Luc, secretary general of the National Fishermen's Union with headquarters in Danang, where so many of our marines are based.

Luc and I talked later of the new "junk fleet," the armada of tiny fishing boats about which so little is known in the U.S. and to which so many of our young men owe so much.

LUC REVEALED that there now are 1,000 such junks carrying food, cement and munitions from the big ports to the smaller ones up and down the China sea coast.

Some of the little coastal bays used to handle 25 freighters a month. Now they need the supplies which should be ferried in by 25 vessels a day. The craft have been "hung up" on the hook in the outer waters while the civilian population went hungry and some of our troops went without certain supplies.

Luc was loyal to his government. He did not criticize leaders at war. But from others I learned that it took a long time to mobilize the tiny junks (fishing boats owned by fishermen themselves) to carry the cargo into areas unapproachable by oceangoing ships.

Finally it was the former president of the Long Island New York Federation of Labor, who left a comfortable post as U.S. Aid Labor specialist in India to get things moving in South Viet Nam. He is Emil Lindahl, a man of guts, I'm proud to call a friend.

It was Lindahl (who will be cooperating with the Gleason mission) who had to issue a call for the "junk" men to mobilize. They did. And it took courage. The Viet Cong snipers throw hot lead at the fishermen if they get too close to shore.

So the tiny boats head deep into the high seas to get away from enemy fire and thus risk being drowned by burbulent waves, and storms. Yet 1,000 (one thousand) of them have volunteered. But there are still another 39,000 (thirty-nine thousand) ready to go.

IT'S ALL DONE by contract. Certainly the crews get paid—about 40 or 50 cents a day. Regular working fishermen, not yet on the armada run, work for four fish out of every ten they catch. They could not quite keep from starving slowly even if they ate their pay.

It's our GIs who help these people. It's the American kids such as 20-year-old Joe Paul Curran, son of National Maritime Union President Joe Curran. Young Joe Paul could have sat it out in a soft job at U.S. Army Headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany, but insisted on volunteering for battle in Viet Nam. He is fighting.

Thus it was the thought of young Joe Paul sometimes shoulder deep in rice swamps and the report that 46 Vietnamese railroad workers have been murdered by the Viet Cong and that thousands of other unionists have been killed by terrorists in cities and on plantations, which sent convention delegates into a fury when young demonstrators came into the convention hall and howled at Dean Rusk.

THIS ANGRY REACTON of some convention delegates was called a "vulgar display of intolerance" by United Auto Workers Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, who defended the young demonstrators. But it is the reply of George Meany which sums up the attitude of the thousand delegates.

"We believe in the freedom of dissent," retorted Meany, "I sat here the other day and we were quite tolerant of these people (demonstrators) that were in the balcony. They had signs denouncing our secretary of state . . . great big banners reading 'stop lying' . . . "nobody bothered them, nobody interfered with them . . . then these college students began to shout and wave their banners.

"It was then that I suggested that the sergeant-at-arms clear them out so that we could go ahead with our work. I believe in tolerance but when they started to make noise by shouting to interfere with the work of this convention, I felt that was the place where our tolerance ended. . . ."

Meany then spoke of the longshoremen, in their 50s and 60s, now under fire in Saigon, fighting for a free world, wanting no part of it for ourselves except our own land.

The strains of "Solidarity Forever" were recalled by this newsman.

What Now?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

When Charles de Gaulle became president of France seven years ago it was in bad shape. Rightists and French military leaders in Algeria were in rebellion against the government.

It was a crisis but France, with one government after another toppling since the war, badly needed some kind of political stability. Its multiplicity of political parties made any permanent government impossible.

The French called De Gaulle to power. His programs? He fuzzed his answers, letting the French take him on face value. Could he give France stability? He could and did for seven years.

But it was only a personal stability, built around him. When he was re-elected to another seven - year term Sunday there was nothing to show he had prepared France for stability on its own, now or seven years from now.

IT HAS BEEN A one-man show, and he admitted as much recently when he said: "Naturally, the day will come sooner or later when De Gaulle is gone. What will happen then?" He is 75 now.

Now that he has been restored to power—after a few human and homey campaign appearances on television — he can be expected to be his old haughty self, and that can mean misery for the United States and Britain.

It will not be surprising if, before his second seven years are up, he wrecks the Western nations' NATO alliance through his insistence everything must be played his way or not at all.

HE HAS SMALL stomach for politics. But it is possible he will outlive his usefulness before his term ends.

Reserve Board Action Reviewed

There is nothing a politician hates so much as making an unpopular decision. And when an accomplished politician holds the high office of President of the United States and faces an unpopular choice of policies, he will at first stall and squirm and pray that the reasons for any decision will vanish.

If the necessity to decide does not go away and someone else makes the decision, he will put on an act of stamping and protesting. But in his heart there is that warm sense of gratitude which passeth all understanding.

That is a quite plausible explanation of what happened recently when inflation began to shake its gory locks at the spending programs of the Johnson regime and Chairman Martin and three of his colleagues on the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate.

Martin has for months been unhappy about the President's easy-money policies.

LAST SPRING he issued a clear warning that excessive credit was one of the "disquieting similarities" between the current fiscal scene and that which prevailed before the stock market crash in 1929.

His warning seemed to have had no impact upon the presidential mind, and Mr. Johnson gaily went on with plans to propose in 1966 bigger and more expensive domestic spending programs. So Martin and three of his colleagues decided to act. After all, the Federal Reserve Board is supposed to police the credit system, and since it is an independent agency it could afford to awaken the nation from its happy dreams of more for everyone and everything.

Thereupon, the President expressed unhappy concern. He said that the board should have waited until his budget figures were placed on display in January. But that objection was so filmsy that anyone could see through it even with failing eyesight.

Finally, the President resigned himself by saying that, after all, the "Fed" is an independent agency and he couldn't do anything about what it had decided to do.

THEN, BECAUSE the action of the Federal Reserve Board had made things easier to strike a note for economy, Mr. Johnson summoned his budget director to Texas to talk about the budget and sent that poor man back to Washington under orders to tote up all the figures again and make some important cuts in the domestic programs.

It has been my business for a considerable number of years to observe and try to understand presidential behavior and also to try to penetrate to the depths of the political mind. It's my considered opinion that the foregoing is an exact explanation of what has happened in this instance.

It had been inevitable that screams would arise from the dedicated exponents of easy money, high spending, bigger deficits and inflation and that their indignation would center upon the Federal Reserve Board, as it has so many times in the past.

The Hon. Wright Patman, the Populistic heir of William Jennings Bryan, intends to "investigate" the Federal Reserve Board. This sort of thing also has happened many times in the past. Indeed, the Federal Reserve system was created in 1913 in the face of violent protests by Mr. Bryan, the immortal "Peerless Leader," then secretary of state under Woodrow Wilson.

IT'S MY CONCLUSION that LBJ doesn't really want to bring the Federal Reserve Board under the control of the Treasury and the President. If he is as smart as I think he is, he will not do what so many have predicted and "pack" the board against Martin by appointing a new member in January who would swing the board toward an easy-money course and thus make the board subservient to the political administration now in power.

Such an unwise action by Mr. Johnson would place the baby smack in the lap of the administration. If inflation should get out of hand, there would then be no one for the unhappy victims of inflation to blame but the President.

My opinion is that, despite presidential protests and the shouting of Vice Prssident Humphrey, the administration doesn't want the Federal Reserve Board to be anything but independent. It's the politician's buffer when unhappy decisions have to be made.

Fish Plentiful. But Few Boats In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Some of the world's richest fishing banks lie off Brazil's southern coast, according to a study made under United Nations guidance recently.

But Brazilians may have to depend on Argentine and Uruguayan fishing boats to reap the fishy harvest. Brazil's fishing industry is suffering from a shortage of boats.

The government is considering opening Brazil's territorial waters to neighboring countries boats in return for a portion of their catch.

Firemen Fete 265 Children

The Calcutta volunteer fire department and its auxiliary played host Saturday night to 265 children and 200 parents at the annual Christmas party at the fire hall.

Treats and games were distributed to each of the youngsters. Ten firemen and four members of the auxiliary were in charge. Norman Neal, firemen's president, was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Velma McElhaney, president of the auxiliary, was not able to attend because she was at work.

Chief Laverne Seckman escorted Santa Claus into the hall. Dancers and baton twirlers from the Larry Myers Dance Studio were featured on the program. Twenty dance routines and specialty acts were given under the direction of Vicki Myers and Agnes Bulger, instructors. Featured was a number by the junior corps of the Vi-Lar Kadettes.

Christmas music also was presented. Teen-agers and adults were served homemade cookies and coffee by the auxiliary members. Among those present were the Rev. Richard Shipley of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church and Rudy Halpate of East Liverpool.

Auxiliary members present were Mrs. Vera Hendricks, Mrs. Gloria White, Mrs. Mabel Neal and Mrs. Jane Seckman.

Hearing Due Rogers Man

Richard Riley, 22, of Rogers R. D. 1 was due for arraignment today in Mahoning County on a charge he made a false report to the Mahoning County sheriff's office Dec. 10 that he was beaten unconscious and robbed of $87 before his unknown assailants set fire to his auto.

Riley was due for arraignment before Judge John Reddy in a Mahoning County district court at Sebring.

Capt. Orlando DiLullo of the Mahoning County sheriff's department said at Youngstown that the investigation revealed Riley had no money in his possession at the time of the reported robbery and that the car was not set on fire until about four hours after the alleged robbery occurred.

Riley claimed he was beaten when he left the Beaver Creek Sportsmen's Club on Washingtonville Rd. following a party Dec. 10. His report was investigated by Detectives Dan Maggianetti and Eugene Leshnack of the sheriff's intelligence squad.

DiLulo said officers believe Riley accidentally set the auto on fire himself when he fell asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand.

U.S. Plans Suits On School Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is planning court suits against some school districts which maintain segregation policies.

Assistant Atty. Gen. John Doar said Sunday the list of potential defendants includes some districts which have rejected federal funds in an effort to preserve segregation.

Doar, speaking on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation," said:

"If they don't do it voluntarily, we'll have to turn to the courts to require them to desegregate."

The Supreme Court in 1954 ordered an end to school segregation policies, and in 1964 Congress ordered a withholding of federal aid if segregation is practiced.

Doar didn't say how many districts would be involved nor did he specify the states.

French Figure Dies

NICE, France (AP) — Jean Medecin, 75, mayor of Nice since 1928 and a one-time candidate for the French presidency, died Saturday. Medecin was a minister during the Fourth Republic in one of the Edgar Faure governments and ran for president in 1953.

Treat Presented Children During BPW's Program

Tri - State Area youngsters were loaded with gifts when the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club held its 19th annual Christmas party for patients of the club's Child Health Clinic Sunday afternoon at the Elks Lodge.

Christmas trees, snow men and other yuletide decorations set the scene for the party and for the entrance of Santa Claus, portrayed by George McCullough. Each guest was presented with a stocking filled with candy, fruit, nuts and cereal and an individual gift of clothing from a BPW member.

Members of the Child Health Clinic Board, headed by Mrs. George McCullough, aided Santa in the distribution of gifts.

The guests were seated at tables for a buffet luncheon. The children, ranging in age from 6 months to 6 years, were accompanied by their mothers or other relatives. BPW and Nike Club members assisted in the preparations and acted as hostesses.

Decision Planned On Development In Rogers Area

A decision is expected by Dec. 28 on whether the Lake Tomahawk realty development between Rogers and Clarkson will be in operation by spring, officials of the sponsoring corporation have announced.

The American Realty Service Corp. is developer of the project which is to include over 600 acres of land and a 140-acre lake with a centralized water system and hard - surfaced roads.

Construction is to begin as soon as final plans are complete and optioned lands are purchased, Ralph Gibson of the corporation said.

The development cannot proceed further until the County Commissioners act on a petition for the closing of portions of some gravel roads which would be under water when the lake is finished, Gibson said.

He said the vacating of the roads would not prevent other land owners from having direct access to their lands.

The smallest lot in the proposed development would be one - third of an acre in size.

Gibson said the development, if built, would bring the county a tax revenue of $2 million in a year and half on the raw land alone. Since the developer does not erect the cottages or homes, there would be additional opportunities for builders and the construction trades, plus retail sales later from those who will live there.

American Realty has developed Lake Latonka at Mercer, Pa., Lake Mohawk at Malvern, Ohio, Lake Choctaw at Columbus, Shawnee Hills at Xenia and a new development, Lake Seneca near Montpelier.

Peace

Viet Nam) out of any future government in Saigon."

North Viet Nam itself denounced the whole thing Saturday as a hoax and in effect denied that a peace probe had been made.

The Communist Chinese chimed in Sunday, calling the report of peace feelers a "U.S.-made hoax" which "fools nobody."

U.S. officials here were impressed by the degree of confirmation in the Hanoi broadcast, however, of the main mechanical fact of the reported peace offer — the meeting Nov. 11 between La Pira and Italian Professor Mario Primicerio, with Ho and Premier Pham Van Dong.

The North Vitenamese announcement differed in its emphasis from the account which La Pira passed on to Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, the U.N. General Assembly president, and which Fanfani reported to Washington in a Nov. 20 letter to President Johnson.

The La Pira-Fanfani account said the Vietnamese were prepared for peace negotiations on the basis of the 1954 Geneva agreements creating Viet Nam provided the United States would accept the Communists' four-point program, which Hanoi called its definition of the Geneva treaty, as a basis for the talks.

The Hanoi account which denounced the State Department disclosure said flatly that "the United States must recognize these four points and show this with practical deeds so as to find a political solution to the Viet Nam problem."

That is in line with North Viet Nam's standard public position but it is harder as a statement of policy than the La Pira version reported by Fanfani and released in the Fanfani letter to Johnson.

Diplomatic authorities said privately they thought the Hanoi government might have considered it necessary to issue Saturday's denial to preserve its position with Communist China, which is regarded here as vehemently opposed to peace in Viet Nam. But officials said it was equally possible and perhaps more logical that North Viet Nam's leaders simply aren't ready to negotiate yet on any terms other than their own.

The principal Communist term which the Johnson administration has been totally unwilling to accept is Point Three, which requires that the Communists have a decisive role in the future of South Viet Nam. Johnson and Rusk have taken the position that on this issue there can be no compromise.

Fanfani's letter to Johnson was answered by Rusk Dec. 4 and Fanfani sent the essence of the reply along to North Viet Nam. Rusk asked for clarification on several points of La Pira's version of Ho's statement.

Diplomatically, therefore, the next move would appear to be up to Hanoi. "No answer has reached me as of today," Fanfani said Friday.

When the sequence of events became public, U.S. officials went to great efforts to emphasize that the apparent peace feeler had not been rejected as reported by the Post-Dispatch.

But the next day, the Post-Dispatch quoted "well-placed diplomats" at the United Nations as saying U.S. bombing last Wednesday of an electrical power plant in the vicinity of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong constituted a clear answer to the peace offer.

In a story by U.N. correspondent Donald Grant, the paper said Johnson had been informed in advance of the air strike that any such action would "close the door to negotiations." Goldberg, however, said Sunday that this is "completely untrue."

There were these other weekend developments:

—President Johnson received a report Sunday from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield on a 30,000-mile fact-finding trip dealing mainly with Viet Nam. Mansfield and four colleagues who accompanied him said upon their arrival in Washington Saturday night that "the longer a solution is delayed, the more extended the destructiveness of the conflict will become and the more difficult the restoration of a rational and durable peace."

—Pope Paul VI, speaking to 20,000 persons in St. Peter's Square, appealed to "responsible leaders" to heed at the least a Viet Cong proposal for a 12-hour Christmas Eve cease-fire in Viet Nam. "We hope that from the cease-fire there would follow reflections and negotiations, then finally the equilibrium of concord and peace . . ."

—Goldberg, commenting on the Pope's appeal, said that the United States seeks peace "not only for Christmas but for all time." As for the Viet Cong proposal, Goldberg said "our local commanders have been authorized to work that out provided it can be done without themselves being fired on."

Pizza-Loving Parrot Left Silent In Ordeal

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Crickets, the pizza-eating parrot, has come home under protest and, for once, is speechless.

The Mexican yellowhead was recaptured 11 days after he fled the Robert B. Laughlin home. Firemen and other would-be rescuers tried for two days to retrieve him from a high-tension wire.

"He looks tired and scared but otherwise appears to be okay," Mrs. Laughlin said Sunday night. "He isn't talking yet."

Crickets left the wires and disappeared in fog Dec. 9. Three youths seized the 16-year-old parrot in an orchard Sunday.

Mrs. Laughlin said he would be allowed to return to his regular diet today—half a cheese and sausage pizza daily.

Sheep Rustlers

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Sicilian police recovered a flock of 70 rustled sheep by using helicopters. The stolen sheep were sighted in an isolated valley far from the nearest roads. Police said they had been hidden there, awaiting a change to drive them to market.

A newly - formed quartet, "The Remarkables," sang "O Holy Night," "Climb Every Mountain" and "Boy of Mine." The group is comprised of Miss Jennie Jones, Miss Peggy Crytzer, Mrs. Dolores Zamborsky and Mrs. Loretta Willoughby.

Mrs. Hilda Edgar read the Christmas Scripture from St. Luke and Mrs. Willoughby a poem "Wishing You Joy."

The chorus sang "Jingle Bell Rock," "White Christmas" and "Christmas Chopsticks," under the direction of Miss Norma Jones.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, mistress of ceremonies, led caroling and presented Mrs. Nancy Beaver, director, and Miss Jones, assistant, with gifts from the chapter.

Decorations throughout the room included a large manger scene, silver tree and several Christmas scenes, including a large "grandma doll" in a typical old - fashioned setting. Mrs. Mary Tarbuck arranged decorations.

Caroling By Candlelight Features Meeting Of Club

Caroling by candlelight featured the Christmas party of the Junior Women's Club Thursday night with Mrs. Ed Bayley of Park Blvd.

Mrs. Thomas Gerace read original poems, "A Child's Trip To The Holy Land" and "The Baby Jesus," following which she presented members with lighted candles. As the lights were lowered, the group sang carols around the pool.

In giving the project report, Mrs. Donald Pelley told of the party held in the afternoon for the children of the Cerebral Palsy Nursery at the clinic rooms of Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Ed Bayley Jr., daughter-in-law of the hostess, conducted the group on a tour of the home showing the holiday decorations. A gift exchange was held.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard McDevitt, Mrs. Ernest Bates, Mrs. Bayley Jr., Mrs. Sue Devon, Mrs. Eugene Gerwick and Mrs. Jack McKinney.

"Urban local government has become so large, party machinery so cumbersome, federal and state controls so confusing that many people feel that their governments are no longer related to them.

"We suggest that some of the present difficulties are related to the development of large urban political machines. Citizens feel no sense of loyalty to governments dominated by such machines."

Minor Wilson, chief administrative aide to Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson of Chicago, said: "It seems hard for me to believe that they really arrived at that conclusion. It seems almost absurd.

"The essence of Supt. Wilson's reorganization of the Chicago police force was to effect more centralized control of police operations. Before that time the police had been district controlled. The situation was not good."

The spokesman for Detroit Mayor Cavanagh said the city has no political machine because of its nonpartisan government.

rear of the truck and exploded in the street, slightly injuring two Americans and five or six Vitnamese, U.S. officials said.

The incident occurred despite the tightest security in years in the city of more than 1.4 million to guard against any major birthday incident. Officials said the wave of terrorism could continue until the new year.

The Communists took no holiday in the field.

Two Viet Cong companies attacked two outposts of the Tuyen Nhon Special Forces camp in the Plain of Reeds 40 miles west of Saigon. The U. S.-advised government forces threw back the Communists with tactical air support and claimed 29 Viet Cong killed.

Twelve miles fatner west, battalions of South Vietnamese regional troopers slammed into a Viet Cong hideout, killing 26 Communists and destroying 30 sampans and 53 buildings, spokesmen reported. The attack force also captured 12 sampans and found more than 100 grenades and a dozen weapons.

With an improvement in the weather, U. S. warplanes ended a two-day lull in the raids on North Viet Nam. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 49 tons of bombs and rockets on the Bac Can highway bridge 75 miles north of Hanoi, spokesmen said. Pilots reported two spans down, a third damaged and damage to six antiaircraft positions nearby that protect the strategic supply route from Red China.

One F105 went down after being hit by ground fire. The pilot ejected 45 miles south of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port, and was picked up by an Air Force rescue helicopter near an island. He had suffered slight burns. The chopper went through Communist ground fire to get him.

A small U. S. Army observation plane collided with a South Vietnamese single-engine aircraft on a support mission 27 miles south of Da Nang, killing both two-man crews.

Over the weekend, U. S. Marines and Army men marked the Viet Cong birthday by killing nearly 200 Communists in three clashes with sizeable Viet Cong forces.

With U.S. military personnel restricted to quarters by a dusk-to-dawn curfew, Saigon passed through the night without incident. A heavy guard patrolled the area of the U.S. Embassy and the U.S. Information Service office, both potential prime targets for Viet Cong birthday violence.

In the last six days, the Communists have staged at least an incident a day in the Saigon area.

The National Liberation Front was founded in 1960 under Communist leadership to give the growing guerrilla insurgency a political organization.

Potters Cash In For First Victory At Wellsville, 63-54

Jones Nets 19, Takes 25 Rebounds

The Review Sports
MONDAY, DEC. 20, 1965 PAGE 12

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters presented Coach Frank Chan with a Christmas present one week in advance as they unwrapped a 63-54 victory — their first of the season — Saturday night at Wellsville's Beacom Memorial Gym.

About 1,000 fans watched the long - time rivals meet in a game marred by a brief brawl with 1:23 remaining which saw a player from each team ejected.

—:—

THE POTTERS were never able to relax against the much smaller, but scrappy Wellsville five which carried the game down to the wire.

East Liverpool trailed at halftime 30-25, but moved in front 42-39 at the third quarter stop and stayed in front the rest of the way. The Potters were still in danger with only three minutes to go as Wellsville cut the lead to five, but built the margin back to 10 points in a hurry.

Before last night's game, the Blue and White had lost four in a row. Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers now show a 2-3 record.

THE POTTERS have one game this week before the brief holiday break, traveling to Massillon for a Wednesday night encounter.

East Liverpool showed a big edge off the backboard Saturday, with Jim Jones, 6-2 co-captain, turning in the best rebounding job by any Potter so far this season. He pulled down 25 rebounds and led the scoring with 19 points.

Chan praised the work of Jones and called his performance "the best game he ever played. He had 25 rebounds and blocked a lot of shots out there tonight."

The Potter coach also singled out Vern Smith and Chuck Winters for their all - around performance and was impressed with the work of Bill Carter, a 6-3 junior. "Carter shows a lot of promise and he will be playing more," Chan said. Carter contributed six points Saturday night and looked good off the backboards.

—:—

BEHIND Jones in the scoring column was Winters with 15 points, his fourth straight game well into double figures.

Vern Smith added nine points, while Darryl Herring, Denny Smith and Carter had six each.

A team won't win many games shooting 26 per cent, but the Potters did Saturday night. They made only 19 of 72 shots. Wellsville wasn't much better, with 20 of 68 for 29 per cent.

The Tigers finished with a 20-19 edge in field goals, but East Liverpool made up the winning margin from the foul line with 25 of 40 charity tosses. Wellsville had 14 of 23.

—:—

HARRY THORNTON paced all scorers as he dropped in 20 points for the Tigers on seven field goals and six of seven fouls. Bob Morehead, 5-10 guard, was next in line with 12, while Dick Murray added 11. Thornton's best quarter was the second when he scored 10.

Wellsville had the upper hand in the early going. The Tigers did not trail in the first quarter and held a 16-12 lead at the end of the period.

—:—

THE POTTERS went in front 24-23 late in the second quarter, but Harry Thornton scored six points in the last two minutes to put Wellsville on top 30-25, his last goal coming on a fast break at the halftime buzzer.

The Potters got rolling in the third quarter, with Jones, Winters and Vern Smith accounting for most of the points which put the Blue and White in front 42-39 at the end of the period.

WITH 3:48 left in the fourth quarter, Carter's bucket pushed the Potter lead to 10 points and the Tigers did not have enough time to overcome that deficit.

The scuffle broke out with 1:23 remaining when Chris Thornton appeared to almost tackle Vern Smith. The two began swinging and official Bill Vinovich was pushed to the floor during the struggle as he attempted to separate players of both teams.

Thornton and Smith were ejected and two technical shots were awarded each team.

Ron Williams Chosen MVP

By The Associated Press

It was Ron Williams all the way as West Virginia University took the consolation game in the Milwaukee Classic basketball tournament and got a big psychological boost for Tuesday's match with Maryland.

Sparking the Mountaineers to the 101-93 victory Saturday night, their first over a Big 10 team, the 6-foot-3 sophomore:

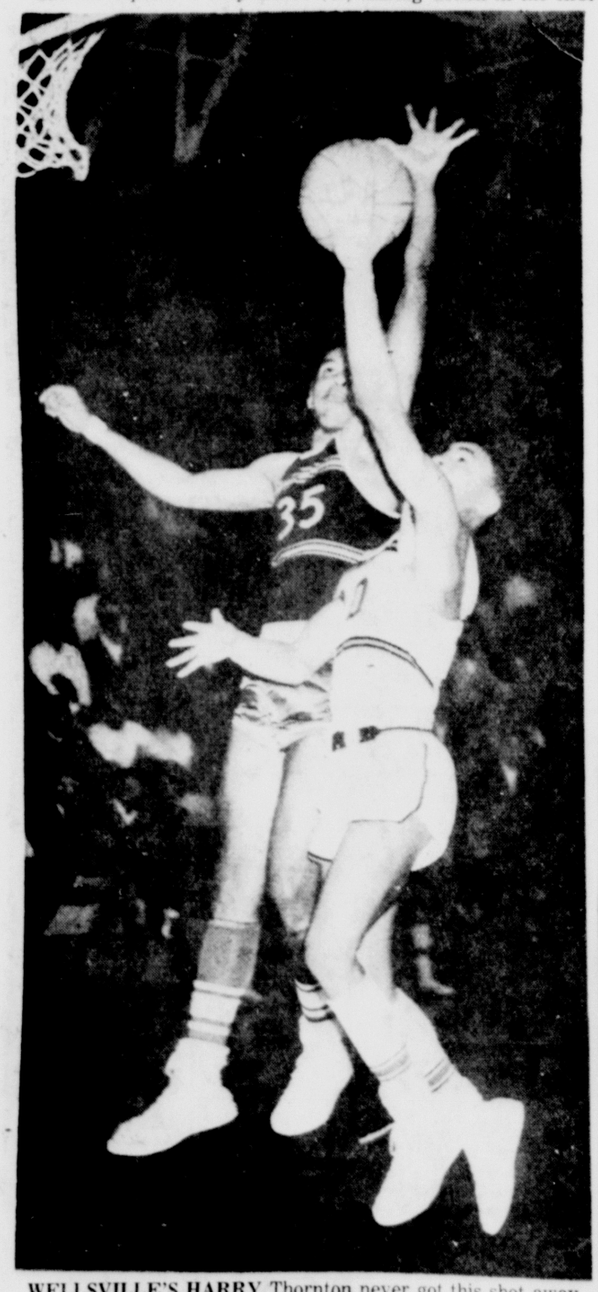
—Scored 38 points to set a tournament individual scoring record, previously held by John Austin of Boston College with 36.

—Was chosen the tournament's most valuable player.

—Made the Classic's all-star team, which also include Steve Olsen of Washington, Ken Gustafson of Wisconsin, and Tom Flynn and Bob Wolfe of Marquette.

Williams made half of the 28 shots he attempted from the floor and added 10 free throws, out of 12 tries.

"We did well, over-all," said Wisconsin Coach John Erickson. "But at the finish it was Williams against us and he is one terrific player."



WELLSVILLE'S HARRY Thornton never got this shot away as the Potters' Vern Smith (35) leaped up to block the shot late in the game Saturday night at Wellsville. It was right after this blocked shot that a brawl started and two players were ejected from the game.

Tennessee, Ole Miss Win

By The Associated Press

Defense carried the day for Tennessee and Mississippi in the first major bowl games in college football's winter windup.

Tulsa's pass - happy Hurricanes ran into bad weather and an alert Tennessee defense in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Saturday and took a 27 - 6 beating from the rugged Vols.

Mississippi, meanwhile, won a defensive struggle with Auburn 13-7 in the transplanted Liberty Bowl at Memphis.

At Houston a hardy crowd of 40,000 braved a steady downpour to watch Tennessee turn two fumble recoveries and an interception into touchdowns and whip Tulsa despite another passing binge by Hurricane quarterback Bill Anderson.

Anderson threw 47 times, completing 23, and outgained Vols passer Dewey Warren 250 yards to 37.

Beaver Local Rolls Over East Palestine For No. 5

Roberts' 21 Sets Pace In 82-47 Romp

Coach Lloyd Stockdale still doesn't know what it is like to lose a varsity game.

Since he took over as head coach at Beaver Local this year the Beavers have done nothing but win.

They made it five in a row Saturday night by blasting East Palestine, 82-47, on the loser's court. It was the fifth straight loss for the Bulldogs.

The Beavers enjoyed their best night for the floor this season hitting a sizzling 52 per cent of their shots.

Beaver Local coasted most of the way in remaining as one of the district's few undefeated teams.

After a 14-6 first quarter lead, the Fighting Beavers outscored the Bulldogs, 33-10 in the second period to take a commanding 47-16 advantage. After three periods the score stood, 65-35 with substitutes seeing most of the second half action.

Larry Roberts continued to hammer the nets scoring 21 points to lead four Beaver starters into the double figures.

Behind Roberts was Bill Barnhart with 18 points while Don Lyle added 16 and Don Stoll 10.

East Palestine's Jim Parker scored 20 points in a losting cause and was the only starter in the double figures.

Beaver Local's jayvees edged East Palestine, 34-32.

Beaver Local returns to action Wednesday night at Southern Local.

49ers Tie Packers, Force Playoff

Green Bay, Colts To Meet Sunday In Showdown

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best quarterback the Baltimore Colts had going for them in their last-chance shot at the National Football League's Western Division title was John Brodie — of the San Francisco 49ers.

Baltimore kept alive Saturday when converted halfback Tom Matte and veteran pick-up Ed Brown quarterbacked them to a 20-17 squeaker over the Los Angeles Rams.

Then on Sunday, Brodie capped the finest season of his career by leading the 49ers to a 24-24 tie with Green Bay, leaving the Packers and Colts deadlocked at the top with 10-3-1 records.

Green Bay had a seven-point lead — and the division title apparently sewn up — with less than two minutes to go. But the 49ers surged back, so now the Packers and Colts will play off for the Western crown next Sunday at Green Bay, with the winner taking on the Cleveland Browns for the league championship Jan. 2.

Brodie's third scoring pass of the day, a 27-yarder to Vern Burke with 1 minute, 7 seconds to play, and Tommy Davis' conversion kick tied it at San Francisco. Each team led twice, with the Packers taking a 21-17 advantage in the final period on Jim Taylor's five-yard run and going ahead 24-17 when Don Chandler kicked a 31-yard field goal with 1:48 left.

But in 41 seconds the 49ers got even on Kermit Alexander's kickoff return to the 29, a 15-yard penalty, four Brodie passes, and Davis' kick. The 49ers' quarterback star, in his ninth NFL season, clicked on 26 of 34 passes for an amazing 76.5 per cent and 295 yards, and wound up the year with 30 TD strikes.

Rookie sensation Gale Sayers of Chicago extended his league record with his 22nd touchdown of the season and won the scoring title, but the Minnesota Vikings beat the Bears 24-17. The loss left the Bears with a 9-5 record, good for third place in the West.

Cleveland's Eastern champion Browns rallied for a 27-24 decision over St. Louis even though they had to play the last half without Jim Brown, who got his 21st TD of the year but also got kicked out of the game for fighting.

In other NFL action — Don Meredith's passing led Dallas over New York 38-20 and into the Playoff Bowl at Miami; Detroit outscored Philadelphia 35-28, giving the West a remarkable 13-1 superiority over the East in inter-division play this season; and Washington scored three times on Pittsburgh miscues for a 35-14 romp over the Steelers.

With first - stringer Johnny Unitas and second-stringer Gary Cuozzo out of action with injuries, the Colts did the job against the Rams with Matte, normally a running back, and Brown, an 11th-hour pick-up from Pittsburgh on waivers.

Baltimore also put George Haffner on the active roster as a reserve quarterback for the Rams game. But under league rules Matte is the only Colt quarterback eligible for the playoff against Green Bay or the title game — unless they get unanimous consent from the other NFL clubs to activate a second quarterback.

Rip Hawkins' 35-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass capped a three-touchdown rally in the final period that gave Minnesota the victory over the Bears. Sayers went over from the two for his touchdown and finished his brilliant rookie season with 132 points.

Vince Costello's interception set up a 24-yard TD pass from Frank Ryan to Tom Hutchinson with 4 ½ minutes left, enabling the Browns to overtake the Cardinals. Larry Wilson stole three of Ryan's passes and sprinted 95 yards for a touchdown with one of the interceptions.

Brown and defensive end Joe Robb of St. Louis were ejected for fighting just before the first half ended. Before that, the great Cleveland fullback bulled over from the three for his 21st touchdown and totaled 74 yards on 12 carries. He ran off with his eighth rushing title in nine season with 1,544 yards.

Dallas' victory over New York left the two clubs tied for second in the East with 7-7 records, but the Cowboys beat the Giants twice and thus earned the East spot in the Playoff Bowl for division runners-up.

Meredith hit Olympic flash Bob Hayes with two scoring passes and connected with Buddy Dial for another, while rookie Obert Logan raced 60 yards with a blocked field goal for a key Dallas touchdown.

Tom Nowatzke, a seldom-used rookie back, paced the Lions over the Eagles with two touchdowns, including the clincher in the fourth quarter on a 22-yard pass from Milt Plum.

The Redskins got rich on the passing of Pittsburgh's Tommy Wade, with TD interception runs of 34 yards by Rickie Harris and 63 yards by Tommy Walters. Lonnie Sanders also picked off a Wade throw, leading to Washington's first touchdown. Bob Pellegrini notched another six-pointer for the Redskins defense when he rambled 31 yards with a fumble recovery.

ALL EYES ARE toward the Green Bay Packers goal line as Packers coach Vince Lombardi (left) and assistant coach Tom Fears, hiding his eyes in disbelief, as the San Francisco 49ers tie the Packers in the last minute of Sunday's game. The 24-24 tie left Green Bay and Baltimore deadlocked for the Western Division title. A playoff game will be held Sunday at Green Bay. (UPI Telephoto)

NFL Attendance Hits Near 5-Million Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League broke its attendance record for the fifth straight season this year as it closed in on the 5-million mark.

Unofficial figures for the season which ended Sunday show 98 NFL games drew 4,906,364. Last year's official attendance was a record 4,563,049.

Ex-E. Palestine Coach Mallory With OSU Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another Miami of Ohio product will be on Ohio's major college football coaching scene next year in the person of Bill Mallory as an assistant to Ohio State's Woody Hayes.

The youthful Mallory, a star end at Miami in the mid-1950s, has been named to a vacancy on the Buckeye staff left by the retirement over the weekend of Lyal Clark.

Clark, rated one of the outstanding defensive line coaches in the collegiate ranks, missed much of the past season with a bleeding ulcer. He requested assignment to less strenuous duties in OSU's physical education department.

Mallory comes here from the Yale coaching staff but is a native Ohioan (Sandusky), coached at East Palestine High School and was an assistant at Bowling Green University five years.

Southern's Great Comeback Falls Short In Overtime Loss To Lisbon

Southern Local's great second half comeback fell short in a heartbreaking 78-77 double overtime loss to visiting Lisbon Saturday night.

The gallant Southern five, trailing by as much as 21 points in the third quarter, turned in one of the most sterling comebacks under Coach Al Girone.

The poor first half play, plus 45 per cent shooting mark by Lisbon cost Southern the victory.

Lisbon jumped out to a 12-6 first quarter lead but Coach Gary Pike's five sizzled the nets for 27 points in the second period and was on top 39-25 at halftime.

Lisbon moved 21 points in front midway through the third quarter and still owned a 56-43 lead when the period ended.

Southern went to work and caught the Blue Devils with 30 seconds to go when Lonnie Field sank two foul shots which tied the count at 65-65.

The two teams traded points in the first overtime and wound up in another deadlock 69-69. Lisbon moved ahead in the second overtime and stayed in front to claim its third victory in four games.

Lisbon's ace scorer Don Blair pumped in 29 points to lead the way. The Blue Devils actually won at the foul line. Southern held a 29-25 edge in field goals but Lisbon made 28 of 43 fouls while Southern fell down at the charity line making only 19 of 36.

Fields paced Southern's scoring and was a tower of strength on the backboardw with 19 rebounds.

Gene Goddard added 20 points and John McCord 17 for the Indians.

Southern lost four players on fouls and Lisbon three in the second half. While Lisbon fired 45 per cent, Southern only shot 32 per cent but attempted 87 shots.

The Lisbon reserves won, 41-31.

Southern meets Beaver Local at home Wednesday night.

Schaus Puts Strategy To Work In Win

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles Laker coach Fred Schaus wears his suitcoat at all National Basketball Association games—perhaps to hide a few tricks up his sleeve.

He didn't doff his jacket Sunday night, a few tricks rolled out, and the Lakers beat the San Francisco Warriors, 132-120.

Here's a sample of Schaus surprises:

—Player were ordered to be in the dressing room early and visitors were barred.

"Let them sit there and think about basketball," said Schaus, still rankled at the two defeats Philadelphia handed Los Angeles last week on its home court.

—Elgin Baylor, Laker superstar, suited up for the first time since he injured his knee Nov. 27. He didn't play, but added an air of power to the Los Angeles bench.

Schaus jumbled the lineup, starting Walt Hazzard and Jerry West at guard, using Leroy Ellis for Baylor and calling on Bob Boozer to sub for injured Rudy LaRusso at the other forward spot. Gene Wiley played center.

The Lakers played raggedly through the first three quarters and trailed 95-94 going into the final period.

In the decisive period, Schaus improvised, having Jim King and Gail Goodrich join West in the backcourt.

That gave the Lakers three guards—a trick that apparently shook everybody up, including the Warriors, and set the Lakers on a final shooting blitz. Three minutes later, on West's hotshots, the Lakers had pulled to an unbeatable 120-110 lead.

The win moved Los Angeles to a 1½-game lead over Baltimore in the NBA's Western Division.

All other NBA members were idle.

Blue Devils, Michigan To Clash

No. 1 Duke Given Scare; Cincy Hands UCLA Setback

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

All the major college basketball teams are taking the weekend off for Christmas but have jammed up the early part of the week with a flock of key intersectional games—including the Duke vs. Michigan clash.

The Blue Devils, 6-1 after a major scare from Virginia Saturday, take their No. 1 national ranking to Michigan Tuesday night for the top game on a busy slate. Michigan is 4-1 and ranked third nationally.

That game could have a major bearing on the national standings going into next week's hefty schedule of scores and scores of holiday tournaments, a schedule that actually started last weekend and continues with a couple of more early this week.

Michigan was idle last week and should be well-rested for Duke. The Wolverines lost Bill Buntin from last year's Big Ten champion team but still have All-America Cazzie Russell and 6-foot-7 Oliver Darden back from the team that last year reached the national finals and the year before the semis.

Duke, on the other hand, is scrambling. After knocking off UCLA twice in a row the week before, the Blue Devils had to come from behind twice Saturday night in clipping Virginia 75-72.

Other important games early in the week have unbeaten Providence, No. 7, at Houston, and unbeaten Minnesota, No. 6, at Detroit tonight.

Tuesday night it's St. Joseph's, Pa., 6-0 and No. 2, at Brigham Young; Montana at Bradley, 8-0 and No. 9; and Santa Barbara at Vanderbilt, 6-0 and No. 5.

Fifteen teams were knocked from the unbeaten ranks last week, with No. 4 Kansas having the roughest go among the ranked teams, losing twice, 78-71 to UCLA and 81-69 to Southern California.

Eighth-ranked UCLA took an 82-76 licking from Cincinnati Saturday, its third loss of the season, but the rest of the Top Ten rolled along as expected.

Vanderbilt won three times, including a 72-69 triumph over Western Kentucky in the finals of Vandy's Invitational Tournament Saturday night.

Other host teams scoring victories in their own tournaments Saturday included Kentucky, 91-56 over Indiana; Virginia Tech, 72-62 over Clemson; Marquette, 75-74 over Washington in the Milwaukee Classic; and Arizona State University 84-81 over Seattle.

Tennessee won the Gulf South Classic 49-43 over Centenary with the help of 18 points from Ron Widby, who was named the Most Valuable Player in the tournament after helping the Vols beat Tulsa 27-6 in the Bluebonnet Bowl football game Saturday afternoon.

Bradley, at 8-0, now tops the list of 17 major unbeaten teams, closely followed by Iowa, Syracuse and Temple at 7-0. Bradley won three times last week, including Saturday's 78-64 decision over Murray State.

In other Saturday night action, St. Joseph's whipped Michigan State 82-65, Minnesota beat Creighton 89-77, Providence took New Orleans Loyola 88-76 and No. 10 Wichita remained unbeaten with a 105-84 romp over Texas Tech.

Wine Or Water

RAKTOVO, Yugoslavia (AP) —It's hard to tell a glass of wine from a glass of water here—until you drink it. The 300-meter-deep well that supplies this village has red water, colored by minerals in the rock. But although it looks like wine, it tastes like water.

Saturn, last of the planets visible to the unaided eye, is almost twice as far from the sun as is Jupiter.

Art Theft Ring Caught In Southeastern Italy

CHIETI, Italy (AP) — Police say they have broken up another gang of Italian art thieves. This one specialized in archeological treasures, many of them ceramics from the early centuries of the Christian era.

The police announced they had arrested five men and recovered more than $160,000 worth of stolen objects.

Police said the gang had been operating in the Abruzzi and Puglia areas of southeast Italy.

The Dayton Art Museum contains an impressive collection of Gothic and Italian doorways and cloisters in addition to paintings from the Renaissance to modern times.

A tight contest in the first half, the two teams were tied 14-14 at the end of the first quarter and 25-25 at halftime.

Willie Mays Collapses Agan But Teamed OK

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Willie Mays has quit promoting the Job Corps for the sake of his baseball career. His third collapse in three years forced the decision.

Willie explained: "The doctor here said I was a little nervous from running around all over the country."

Mays, 34, highest-paid player in baseball ($105,000) and the National League's Most Valuable Player, fell in a faint Saturday while promoting the Job Corps at a downtown theater.

Backstage hands ran to help him. They sat him in a chair. And somebody called a police ambulance. But Mays walked from the theater and rode in a police car to the Salt Lake City home of Herman Franks, manager of the San Francisco Giants.

"I guess he just blacked out," said Franks. "All the heat and the kids.

"Don't worry about him," Franks said, and added that his star center fielder would be in "good shape" by spring.

"I'm fine," said Willie.

"The doctor said I should get lots of rest. He gave me a couple of shots and some pills and said in a couple of days I should be back to feeling really good."

Willie collapsed in 1962 sitting in a dugout, and doctors blamed it on indigestion. Then he fell to one knee because of dizziness at Candlestick Park in 1963. Doctors blamed exhaustion.

Dr. Robert Dalrymple, who examined him Saturday, said exhaustion was the culprit again.

During his first year with the Giants last season, Franks rested Mays periodically. And Willie responded with 52 homers for the best season performance in the majors, posting a .317 batting average with 112 runs batted in.

Chiefs Dedicate Game To Hill, Whip Denver

By The Associated Press

"I was playing his position and I wanted to play it as he would have," said Kansas City's Curt McClinton. "I dedicated myself to do it the way he would have done it."

The position McClinton was playing belonged to his roommate and teammate Mack (The Truck) Hill, who died suddenly last Tuesday from complications arising over a knee operation.

And McClinton, shifted from his normal halfback position, scored one touchdown and set up three others by grabbing five passes for 213 yards as the emotionally charged Chiefs outslugged Denver 45-35 Sunday in an American Football League game.

McClinton scored on an 11-yard touchdown run and set up three others scores with key receptions of 52, 12 and 69 yards en route to a total gain of 228 yards for the game. His one-man show even impressed his teammates, all of whom had dedicated the game to Hill.

"Curtis showed super-human effort," said quarterback Len Dawson. "That was a sensational effort," said punt return specialist Frank Jackson.

While the Chiefs and Broncos closed out their regular seasons, San Diego and Buffalo tuned up for the championship game next Sunday, the Chargers defeating Oakland 24-14 and the Bills dropping a 14-12 decision to the New York Jets.

Boston walloped Houston 42-14 Saturday as Gino Cappelletti of the Patriots produced 28 points for a season total of 132 while winning the scoring title for the third consecutive year.

Dawson completed 11 of 22 passes for 282 yards against the Broncos before turning the quarterbacking over to Pete Beathard and Bert Coan, taking over McClinton's halfback position, ran short yardage for a pair of touchdowns. John McCormick passed for three Denver touchdowns and Cookie Gilchrist scored on 44 and one-yard runs.

Joe Namath's two touchdown passes to Don Maynard got the job done for the Jets against the Bills, who muffed a conversion attempt and three field goal tries. Pete Gogolak, Buffalo's kicking specialist, didn't even get a chance to put his foot on the ball on two of the attempts and wound up second in the scoring race with 115 points.

Waterford's Final Feature Is Captured By Dr. Powder

Dr. Powder won the Happy Holidays Purse at Waterford Park on the final day of racing in 1965 before a crowd of 5,456 which helped set two new betting records at the one-mile track.

Dr. Powder, ridden by jockey S. Peter Dalgo, was a head in front of Busy Cycle at the wire. Better way was third by another head.

The four-year-old Dr. Powder is trained by Herbert H. Jolley and owned by Mrs. Nadine Williams, of Cleveland.

Saturday's crowd set a new record for the daily double pool when they put $64,442 through the windows. In the fourth race the fans set a new perfecta pool betting record when they poured $40,074 through the mutuel windows.

This has been the greatest racing season ever at Waterford with a handle of over $11,000,000 at the winter meet. The handle for the year was over $30,000,000.

Waterford will open its 1966 racing on Saturday, Feb. 26.

Steelers End '65 Campaign On Sour Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers completed a poor season in the National Football League on a sour note Sunday.

The Washington Redkins rolled over the Steelers 35-14 for Pittsburgh's 12th loss compared with only two victories.

The Redskins scored two touchdowns on intercepted passes and a third on a fumble recovery. Rickie Harris picked off a Tommy Wade pass in the first period and ran 34 yards for a Redskin TD. In the second period Tommy Walters intercepted another Wade pass and ran it back 63 yards for a score. The fumble occurred in the final minute of the first half. Bob Pellegrini scooped it up and went 31 yards for a touchdown.

Another pass interception, this one by Lonnie Sanders, set up the first Redskin touchdown in the first period.

The Steelers did all their scoring in the second period. Wade moved the Steelers 86 yards for the first TD, carrying himself for 41 yards on one of the plays. Gary Ballman carried the ball over from two yards out. Ballman also scored the other touchdown on a pass from Wade, the play covering 44 yards.

The Redskins' 35 points was their highest of the season. They completed the season with a 6-9 mark.

Hand Sander Still Assures Super-Finish

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Look at the figures on the millions of dollars worth of power sanders sold every year and you will be convinced that nobody sands by hand anymore.

That is until you look at the figures on the million dollars worth of ordinary hand sandpaper sold every year.

A flawless surface is the basis of a truly fine finish on wood. When using a clear finishing material — varnish, lacquer, shellac, synthetic or whatever — the finest product in the world and the most efficient techniques will not hide a surface that has been improperly prepared.

In some cases, the tiniest of scratches will assume gigantic proportions after a clear finish has been applied.

Power sanders are indispensable for anyone who works a lot with wood, especially for the initial sanding. It saves time. It saves labor. And it accomplishes results that the novice could not have hoped for many years ago.

But when it comes to that superfine finish just before the first coat is put on, most master cabinetmakers — and apparently most amateurs — still rely on sanding by hand. A very fine grade of sandpaper also is preferred by the handsanders for the necessary smoothing between coats.

While there are many varieties of abrasive papers available, the principle is always the same —the finer the grit, the less of the wood surface is taken off. And this is what you want in those between-coats. Only a very light pressure is used in the direction of the grain.

It is one of the curious things about sanding that most persons, when they first begin this important step in wood finishing, find it difficult to sand in a straight line.

This is especially true after the first few minutes of sanding, when it begins to get a little monotonous and the process becomes rather mechanical.

Teachers in woodworking in high schools say they constantly have to remind their students to sand in a straight line, since the hand and arm have a tendency to wander off course.

School Bus Driver 'Cool' Despite Fire

HOMER, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Ina Thomason, a school bus driver, has been cited for her "courage and calmness" when her bus caught fire.

The school board commended her after a friend described the incident in a letter to the board.

Mrs. Frederick Lorenz said that when the bus caught fire Mrs. Thomason quickly and calmly started the children out of the emergency exit and then took a fire extinguisher and put out the fire.

Shoe Shine Line

NEW YORK (AP) — If all the shoes shined free at the recent New York World's Fair were laid end to end, they would reach from this city to Pittsburgh. Peter Crane, exhibit manager, said 1,978,287 persons brightened their footwear at the Johnson Wax Pavilion in 1964 and 1965.

Gifts From Home

These May Help With Christmas Problems

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"Something for the home!"

Time was when that was a risky notation on a Christmas list. Goodness knows what would be put under the tree. But now, everyone seems to be on a treasure hunt for the home. Objects given are likely to be less far out.

What's more, if you specify something rare, something unusual or something different you'll probably get it. Or a reasonable facsimile.

—:—

HERE ARE some ideas:

Andirons (old or reproductions), amberina glass (expensive and getting scarcer).

Bedspreads (especially Colonial woven type,) bird cages. Victorian? (If you don't have a bird, hang one for planter.) Bamboo (Anything! Step stool?).

Candle molds (Make great sconces), convex mirror (just the thing for the Federal dining room) chandeliers (crystal for the French salon bit or try for Spanish metal or Mexican tin).

Clocks (name your favorite clock maker), corner cupboard (indispensable in the Colonial room).

Dower chests (blankets to books storage), decoys (great decoration for country homes), desks (old or new they flatter a room).

Eighteenth Century (take your choice of wonderful art objects and furnishings from the wonderful period), eagles (they're "in" decoration for over doorways — home or barn, on walls of city apartments).

Four Post Bed — (it's the romantic way to sleep 1965), fire screens (just the thing for the formal living room).

Georgian silver (settle for the tiniest piece of this sought-after silver), grandfather's clock (puts cozy elegance in any room).

Hooked rugs (even in disrepair), hurricane lamps (usfeul as well as decorative), Hitchcock chairs (tradition in dining).

Icon (fine inexpensive reproductions come from Italy).

JACOBEAN (One piece of this solid stuff goes a long way. Paint it for a distinctive look.) Jardinere (a chic planter).

Kerosene lamps (decorative and useful, electrified or as-is). Knife - box (just the thing for your Sheraton buffet).

Mural (for your wall — know the one you want). Mirrors (pick the style before you pass your order to Santa). Masks (primitive style are great for modern apartments and homes).

Needlepoint (pillows, rugs and seat covers that offer charm-plus).

Oriental rugs (they're more "in," bigger than ever). Organs (it's the family instrument).

Pewter (ETarly American or old English, its patina is made for the country furnishings). Paintings (name your artist or trust to luck), pier mirrors (for a little entranceway?).

Quilts (patchwork or woven for traditional bedrooms, take anything you can get —but it's all expensive.

'Tis The Season

Red And Green Enamel Popular

Christmas reds and greens are still as popular and symbolic of the holiday season as Old St. Nick — especially bright red and green enamel paints for decorating holiday containers and Christmas gifts, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association of Washington, D. C.

Perhaps it's because green paints capture the beauty of holly, spruce and pine and red paints create the evocative impact of poinsettias and holly berries. Or, maybe it's just because bright enamel transforms a simple, inexpensive basket, flower pot or coffee can into a gleaming Christmas treasure.

HANDY, easy - to - use cans of aerosol paints make holiday decorating more fun — and easier too. Reds, greens, silvers and golds are still the holiday favorites, but paints in aerosol cans are available in many more bold, dramatic colors.

And what could be prettier than holiday cookies and candies packed in a shiny enameled coffee can? Top the cans with a contrasting Christmas bow. They're holiday exquisite sprayed red or green, or a favorite color to match a friend's kitchen. Children love them for holding trinkets, marbles and similar small objects.

Youngsters' eyes will sparkle over presents of tiny baskets filled with stocking - stuffers, sweets or fancy cookies. For an extra effect, tie a candy cane on the handle with a colored bow.

Speaking of baskets, they are also favorites with adults. In a coat of smooth red or green enamel, they add magic to little gifts.

And they're available in a variety of sizes to hold every imaginable present from sewing needs to personal accessories, not to mention homemade holiday cookies, candies and preserves. Fill one with fishing tackle, socks or bar accessories for "him".

—:—

OF COURSE you'll want to deck the halls with pots of ivy—and give a few for gifts. Paint the pots, encircle with a bow centered with pine cones sprayed gold or silver. Or, imagine a striking red Christmas tray filled with treats you have made. A gay green enameled recipe box can share the spotlight with your favorite recipes.

And don't forget the magic of silver and gold! Pine cones, acorns and even greenery glow with the joy of the season when they are sprayed silver and gold.

Sound exciting? It is. But beware — the fun of creating holiday masterpieces is contagious. You'll find yourself dashing to the store to pick out a variety of inexpensive gift items—made "extra special" by your ingenuity and Christmas enamels. Better start saving coffee cans, too.

Ford Seeks New Executive Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford has promised to push for a new study of the executive branch.

It would be aimed at reforms similar to that proposed by two previous commissions headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Ford said in a Sunday statement that since the last Hoover Commission closed shop 10 years ago, federal employment has risen by more than 100,000, federal expenditures by $57 billion and "vast new agencies and functions have come into being."

His office quoted the 52-year-old sheriff's doctors as saying he suffered a mild heart attack. Deputies said he passed a restful night at the hospital.

Steel Breaks 1964 Records

CLEVELAND (AP) — Even though steel inventory adjustments are continuing, steel making records will be set for the rest of this year, Steel Magazine said today.

Last Saturday the industry equaled its record set in 1964—127.1 million tons of steel for ingots and castings, the metal working weekly said.

Last week also marked the third consecutive week-to-week production increase, and it is becoming apparent that the low point in steel inventory adjustment due to hedging for a threatened strike last fall is past, the magazine said.

Steel predicts that production will rebound in response to a rising trend of new orders as soon as the Christmas and New Year's holidays are past.

Production will spurt because yearend tax and balance sheet considerations will no longer be a deterrent. Also good weather had extended the construction season and postponed a normal yearend letdown for construction steels, Steel said.

The magazine also predicted that the auto industry, this year's biggest customer, will use a record 20 million tons of steel in 1965. The previous record was 18.7 million tons set in 1955.

However, U.S. producers continue to be concerned about imports, the magazine said. Foreign mills loom as stronger competitors because of overcapacity which has given rise to rebates and price cutting, especially in West Germany.

Steel estimated production of steel for ingots and castings at 2,070,000 net tons for the next week of Dec. 4. Steel's composit on No. 1 heavy melting scrap rose 83 cents to $31.33 a ton.

It Cost Postmaster To Be Notary Public

RUSSELL SPRINGS, Ky. (AP) — Addie F. Miller, the postmaster, figures it has cost him about $17.60 to perform as a notary public for the past 36 years.

He has paid $2 every four years to renew his license. That's a total of $18.

As for income, back in 1943, a man handed him 25 cents for legalizing some papers and that was his entire return until recently.

Miller notorized papers for another man and was given a 15 cent package of chewing tobacco.

Which brings Miller's income for 36 years to about 40 cents.

Police Car Involved

5 Suffer Injury In 3-Way Mishap

An Akron motorist remains in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a collision Saturday night on the city Freeway involving a police cruiser and two autos in which four other persons were injured.

Eli Vickers, 42, driver of one of the autos, suffered possible skull and spine injuries and a laceration of the forehead in the crash timed at 6:21 p. m. which also sent two women passengers in his car and two Cleveland men to the hospital.

Richard Olenski, 38, of Cleveland, was discharged Sunday after being detained overnight with a possible spinal injury and abrasions of the right thigh.

Olenski was a passenger in a 1965 convertible driven by Gerard Zambataro, 31, of Cleveland, who was treated for contusions of the scalp.

Also treated at the hospital and released were Mrs. Iola Brockman, 50, who received lacerations of the left arm and lower lip, and Mrs. Johnny Mae Vivins, 36, who suffered contusions of the head.

The three men were taken to the hospital by ambulance while the two Akron women were taken by Police Lt. C. E. (Bill) Tice, who investigated the crash.

Lt. Tice is commanding officer of the 4-11 shift on which Patrolman L. E. Richard, 38, who was involved in the collision, works.

—:—

THE AKRON man was cited by Richard on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. He will be given a Municipal Court hearing after his release from the hospital.

Patrolman Richard was headed north in a 1965 cruiser in the passing lane of the two northbound lanes and turned on his turn signal to indicate a turn through the divider at the city limits.

The officer said he saw Zambataro approaching too fast so he pulled even with the turnaround to avoid being struck, Lt. Tice reported.

When the Cleveland driver halted behind the cruiser, Patrolman Richard started to walk back to ask him to back up so he could make the turn when the crash occurred.

Vickers' 1961 convertible slammed into the rear of the Zambataro convertible and shoved it into the rear of the cruiser and the metal guard rail.

Officers said Vickers' auto was a total loss and the Cleveland man's auto also is a possible total loss.

A 20-year-old Beechwood wife was injured late Saturday afternoon when she lost control of her car on Park Way, about 350 feet north of Pennsylvania Ave., and it struck a house and a parked station wagon.

Karen Sparks, wife of John Sparks, 1015 Rubicon St., was treated at the hospital for abrasions of the forehead and right knee in the crash at 4:30 p. m.

—:—

SHE TOLD officers she was headed south when her auto went too far to the right and she lost control and veered across the road, striking the north and west side of a house owned by Rudy Presutti of Midland and hitting the station wagon of Denver McKnight of Park Way.

The front end of her convertible owned by Thomas Sparks, 327 Haywood St., and the rear of the McKnight auto were damaged.

A crash at 11::15 a. m. Sunday at W. 3rd St. and Peach Alley involved a pickup truck operated by Kenneth R. Adams, 45, of 1012 St. George St. and a 1958 sedan driven by Elmer C. Reibold, 65, of Iris Ave.

Adams told police his view was obstructed by parked cars and he didn't see Reibold approaching when he pulled out of Peach Alley. The entire right side of Reibold's sedan and the right front of the pickup were damaged, police said.

Melvin T. Millward, 1803 Harvey Ave., reported to police that his parked car was damaged between 8:30 and 10:15 a. m. yesterday while parked near his home.

Officers said tire marks in the snow indicated a hit-skip motorist slid into the Millward car.

—:—

A MINOR collision at 12:10 p. m. Saturday on W. 5th St. involved a 1965 sedan operated by Thomas A. Mansfield of Oakmont and the car of Frank Conci, 518 Campground Rd.

Mansfield said he was waiting for another motorist to pull out of a parking space and then started to move when he realized the other car wasn't leaving and struck Conci.

Conci said he was changing from the north to the south lane when Mansfield pulled out and hit his left rear fender.

Police also filed a belated reported of an accident after noon Friday at Green and Welch Lns. involving a car operated by Kenneth L. Ibbs, 37, of 1226 Cora St. and a Yellow Cab Co. taxi driven by Reginald D. Delauder, 34, of 333 Ridge Ave., Wellsville.

Ibbs said he was traveling south in Green Ln. and saw the taxi pull out of the other alley. He said he applied his brakes but slid into the cab. Delauder said he didn't see Ibbs approaching as he pulled out.

Story Of Yule Told In Music

About 300 attended a Christmas music program Sunday night at Trinity United Presbyterian Church in which the youth and children's choirs told the story of Christmas praise by shepherds, wise men and all mankind.

The St. Andrew's Choir under the direction of Mrs. Larry Walton sang "Let All Mortal Flesh." The Angelus Choir under the direction of Miss Helen Hannahs did an arrangement of "Christmas Bells" and "Light, Light Our Candle."

The Bethlehem Choir, also directed by Miss Hannahs, sang "While He Sleeps."

The Kindergarten children of the church school directed by Mrs. Harry Faulk and Mrs. George Fletcher sang "Baby Jesus," "Shepherds Leave the Hillsides" and "Bells." The Trinity Choir directed by Mrs. Walton, sang "Happy Christmas."

A combined choir of 70 voices concluded the program with "Christmas Bells." A quartette, Ella Sue Bradfield, Diana Persohn, John Chaney and Richard Fisher, was featured in this number. The Rev. H. Gene Toot, co-pastor, read the Christmas Story from Scripture.

The program was followed by a Christmas party in Hilbert Hall. The deacons of the church were in charge of the party, at which treats were given to all the children.

Shootings Leave 2 Dead, 3 Others Wounded In Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three separate shootings left two Clevelanders dead and three others hospitalized Sunday.

Ralph Gibson, 31, died after trading shots early in the morning with Willie Carter, 63, according to police, who said Carter had set up a bar at his east side home.

William Ballard, 21, a bystander, was in satisfactory condition with a back wound. Carter was hit in the leg.

Witnesses said Carter told Gibson to leave the home but that Gibson returned and the shooting started.

The other fatal shooting took place shortly before midnight at the rear of an East 33rd Street home.

The victim was James L. Wooten, father of two children. Police said Wooten was shot in the face with a shotgun. A 40-year-old east side man was held without charge for investigation.

The other shooting took place at King's Tavern on the west side. Albert Koreny, 19, was in good condition at Fairview Park Hospital after surgery to remove a bullet from his pelvis.

Police said a Brook Park man, who identified himself as a Cleveland policeman, shot Korney during an argument. The man was being held for questioning.

Woman Sets Self Afire In Suicide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 67-year-old woman apparently died instantly when she walked into a restroom in a Venice service station, drenched her clothes with gasoline and then set herself afire, police said today.

Officers said the victim was Charlotte Forrest, who lived in a rest home for the elderly.

A note was found in her charred purse after the accident Sunday, officers said. Police said the note asked that "her body be given to science."

David Watson, a service station attendant who sold the victime a can of gas, said he assumed she was a motorist whose car had stalled.

Sheriff Probes Death Of Widow In Defiance

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—An 83-year-old Defiance County widow was found dead in her bed early today, with the cause of death a head wound of undetermined origin, Defiance County Sheriff Doug Ziegler said.

County Coroner F. M. Lenhart was also investigating the death of Mrs. Mattie Green, who lived alone near Edgerton, in the northwest corner of the county.

The victim's grandson, Tom Pierce, 16, of Edgerton, was spending the night with his grandmother. Sheriff Ziegler quotes the boy as saying he heard a noise just after midnight and found Mrs. Green dead.

Arranged By Ministers

'Carol Sing' Attracts 350

Songs of Christmas rang out in the frosty air on the Diamond Sunday night in an open air "carol sing" arranged by the East Liverpool Ministerial Association. An estimated 350 participated.

The photos show part of the crowd which participated, well-muffled against the chill.

The huge community Christmas tree in the center of the Diamond served as a backdrop for the program. Members of churches throughout the city participated.

Ernest Lowe directed the singing. The Salvation Army Band also took part in the program.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, president of the association, read the Christmas Story from Luke II. The Rev. Claude Schlosser, vice president of the association, gave the benediction.

The program was arranged by the special days committee of the association, which is comprised of the Rev. E. C. Traylor, the Rev. Arthur Williams and the Rev. B. E. McDonald.

Thousands of others on the shore were drowned in tidal waves which followed the cyclone.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A department store Santa Claus will perform a wedding Tuesday in a store elevator.

Santa is the Rev. Jack Perkins, a moonlighting minister who won't have time to remove his costume before officiating at the marriage.

The couple to be wed are Robert McClure, 39, of nearby San Bernardino, an elevator serviceman, and Lea Bonham, 27, of Riverside.

They met two years ago when Miss Bonham was an elevator operator and McClure was making his inspection rounds. She has since been transferred to the housewares department.

Best man will be Pat Harrison, the store's maintenance engineer.

2 Small Boys Claimed In Ravenna Home Fire

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Two little boys died of asphyxiation late Sunday night when their white frame house just outside the city limits in Skeels Allotment section burned to the ground.

Ravenna Fire Chief James Batsch said the fire was caused by an overheated coal stove used to heat the 20-by 20-foot wooden structure.

Mrs. Carol Shuler, 20, mother of the two dead boys, Robbie, 4, and Lennie, 2, was treated for shock. She was not home when the fire broke out, sheriff's deputies said.

Chamber Urges Total Social Security Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. Chamber of Commerce task force says all Americans should be brought into the Social Security program.

The 100-member group, headed by editor Erwin D. Canham of the Christian Science Monitor, made its proposal in the second phase of a study of poverty.

The second report — on the sick, disabled and aged—also said the $44 minimum monthly Social Security benefit is unrealistically low.

U.S. Ready For Orbit Of 4 Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A triple-barreled Air Force Titan 3 is scheduled to kick four separate satellites into an orbit more than 20,000 miles above the equator Tuesday to climax one of the most complex unmanned space missions ever planned.

Riding on the nose of the three-legged booster, the nation's most powerful rocket now in use, will be two experimental communications satellites, a satellite which will study activities of the sun and a fourth satellite for ham radio operators.

Liftoff is scheduled for 9 a.m. (EST).

The amateur radio satellite, called Oscar 4, is sort of a poor man's Telstar. Like three other Oscar satellites which preceded it, Oscar 4 was built by the American Radio Relay League, a group of space engineers whose hobby is ham radio.

Oscar stands for Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio. Oscar 4 is a complete radio frequency transmitter capable of simultaneously receiving voice and telegraph signals at 144 megacycles and retransmitting them at 432 megacycles.

The two communications satellites, developed by the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and named Les 3 and Les 4, are designed to test devices for future military defense communications satellite systems.

The sun-studying satellite, called OV2-3, will carry 15 experiments, the Air Force said.

2 Red Guards Defect To West Berlin Police

The noncommissioned officers came over together, turned themselves in and handed over their submachine guns, police said.

The Negley volunteer firemen distributed 250 treats Saturday afternoon while Sunday afternoon the volunteer firemen at New Waterford distributed 400 treats.

Authorship Termed 'Chore' By Pittsburgh TV Reporter

Writing a book is a "chore" when it's combined with a busy career as housewife, mother and news writer, according to Marie Torre, a commentator on KDKA-TV at Pittsburgh, who appeared Saturday at the grand opening of Laughlin's Book Store at St. Clair Plaza.

Miss Torre, on hand to autograph copies of her book, "Don't Quote Me," said of her author's work:

"It was a chore getting the book written and trying to keep a regular work schedule." "It finally became practically a weekend project."

Miss Torre, who at one time did freelance work for magazines, including Look, McCalls and Redbook, received worldwide attention in 1957 when she refused to reveal her news source in a report on the Judy Garland-CBS dispute and received a jail sentence as a result.

The incident occurred when she was writing a TV column for the New York Herald Tribune.

In 1962 she moved to Pittsburgh to begin her position as news commentator on the KDKA Noon News program, and later on the World Today news program.

When asked her reactions to the smaller community of Pittsburgh, Miss Torre said: "I like Pittsburgh immensely. Personal living is more pleasant, and the city is readily accessible from the suburbs, not like crowded New York. In addition, officials here are more readily available for interviews."

She considers TV work even more exciting than the newspaper, and enjoys the "Eavesdrop" program most of all because the participants are put in a situation where they must make use of their own background and experience.

She lives with her husband, Hal Friedman, former TV producer and now associate director of the Civic Light Opera, and their son and daughter in Mount Lebanon.

She plans to continue writing, and has completed the outline of another book dealing with problems of the working mother.

Lunar Trip Expected By '69, Aide Believes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the U.S. man-in-space program thinks Americans may land on the moon before the decade ends.

Said Dr. George E. Mueller: "We should be able to carry out the lunar landing before the end of 1969. . . if all goes well."

Mueller, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made his prediction in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report.

Viet Terrorists Close Noose Around Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong ranging from youthful saboteurs in Saigon to battle-hardened battalions in the countryside are tightening a noose of terror around Saigon.

The threat at present is mostly psychological. But a massive terror campaign may be near for the capital, which has escaped much of the brutality of the war despite repeated terrorist acts.

No Viet Cong military attempt to seize the city is expected.

Government troops have been able to do little to clear the surrounding countryside. Some vital military installations and tactical areas are considered threatened. One such military area is almost within rifle shot of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division headquarters just north of Saigon.

Adding to the problem, rumblings of military discontent with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government have touched off a flurry of coup rumors. At such times anti-Communist operations often are disregarded in favor of political jockeying.

Rivalries between various intelligence agencies complicate the picture. Police sources say informers often fear being exposed by Viet Cong agents who have infiltrated into the government's version of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

High officials in Washington and Saigon have focused sharply on the recent campaign of terror in Saigon which began with the bombing Dec. 4 of the Metropole Hotel, a U.S. and Allied billet.

A series of incidents since led to a dusk-to-dawn curfew for U.S. servicemen in Saigon.

Concern is high now because the current terror campaign obviously is geared to the fifth anniversary today of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

Inside the city are four known Viet Cong Commando units, the 65th, 67th, 158th and 159th. They probably total less than 300 persons.

The Commandos are not organized as military units. The members are parts of Communist cells and subcells and most are unknown to each other. Over-all plans are known only by a top handful. If one cell or group is compromised, the sabotage network does not collapse.

Fanning out of Saigon into Gia Dinh Province, also part of the capital military district, are perhaps five Viet Cong district organizations some with military companies attached. These district organizations have a measure of autonomy and include many of the most dedicated Communists.

Recent intelligence reports indicate that two Viet Cong battalions also have moved into the area just south of Saigon.

It seems unlikely that the Viet Cong would try to take physical possession of the city since they do not have the military organization to back up such a move. Their hit-and-run tactics are expected to remain unchanged.

Speedup

nounced plan to work through Thursday, just two days before Christmas, drew considerable grumbling from both Democrats and Republicans, but Eilberg said there have been no serious complaints.

He added that Minority Leader Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, indicated that Scranton might act by Dec. 31.

The last time the General Assembly has worked so close to Christmas day was in 1955 when Republicans ruled the legislature. Christmas Day was on a Sunday then.

The legislature met through the preceding Wednesday and returned a week later.

The House agenda is crammed with about 200 bills but Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup said he plans only to consider conference committee reports and bills that need concurrence in House amendments.

A number of important measures will require Senate action, especially a new capital budget for the 1965-67 biennium.

The House Appropriations Committee trimmed some $124 million from the administration proposed $452 million capital budget and the bill was returned to the Senate for concurrence.

The budget will almost certainly wind up in a conference committee, Stroup said. Many observers feel the committee would restore most of the reductions by the House Appropriations Committee and then bring the bill out for adopition by both chambers.

Still before the House is an amended version of the Scranton Administration's school subsidy legislation, which would mean the Senate would be asked for concurrence.

The Senate GOP caucus reportedly has already accepted the amendments so the concurrence could be done in short order.

But the controversial Consumer Credit Bill appears doomed for this session under the Senate's policy of not acting on new legislation.

Police Office Entered By Wellsville Intruder

The Wellsville police department office was ransacked sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Chief John Hephner said a pane of glass in the door was broken to gain entrance.

The chief said nothing was taken, although papers were strewn over the floor. The burglar had opened the desk and gone through papers on top of filing cabinets.

State Help Seen Catholic School Need, Aide Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Roman Catholic schools should receive some form of state or federal aid for all courses except religion, the legal advisor to the Committee of Catholic Bishops of the United States said Sunday.

William E. Ball, who also is executive director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference of Pennsylvania, said "We are short of schools, teachers, equipment, books; everything except children."

Ball, speaking at more than 600 persons at the 50th anniversary dinner of St. Ann Parish said Catholic education saves American taxpayers an estimated $2 billion a year. He said Pennsylvania taxpayers save over $250 million a year and added, "I imagine the same is true in Ohio."

Ex-Convict Held For Wounding 2

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP)—Thomas Sterner, 29-year-old former convict, was being held today in the shootings of his wife and father-in-law and the robbery of a Western Union office.

Police arrested Sterner after the incidents Saturday and charged him with armed robbery and felonious shooting with intent to kill.

Sterner's wife, Dorothy, 36, and her father, John Petrovich, 77, were in McKeesport Hospital with bullet wounds.

Officers said they were shot during a quarrel in their Duquesne home, where Sterner was staying. They said he then held up a Western Union office and fled with $71.

Fairborn firemen said the blaze apparently started in the kitchen.

March Protests Sales On Sunday

OAK HILL, W. Va. (AP) — A discount store here said its business wasn't affected by a group of marchers protesting Sunday sales.

The parking lot of the store, Aide's Discount Center, was full, and an employe said pre-Christmas business was brisk Sunday.

The 15-minute march was organized by the Rev. J. C. Bybee, pastor of the Oak Hill Church of the Nazarene. While the Rev. Mr. Bybee said he expected 300 to 400 demonstrators, only about 25 took part.

The demonstration stemmed from an Oak Hill - Scarbro Ministerial Association resolution which criticized businesses open on Sundays. Fayette County voters threw out the Sunday closing law more than a year ago.

Red To Close Mail Bag After Serving 45 Years

"Red" is walking his route for the last Christmas season after 45 years of delivering mail which has contained both joy and sadness for East Liverpool homes.

Charles B. Vermillion, who now is the carrier on Route 4 covering a portion of the business and residential district in the downtown area, will retire effective Dec. 30.

The oldest carrier in point of service by six years and best known as "Red" to hundreds of residents, he has been pounding the pavement in all kinds of weather and covered thousands of miles in his long career.

His present route includes a portion of the business district on E. 5th St., Washington and Market Sts. and the residential area on W. 5th and W. 6th Sts. to City Hospital, the 300 section of W. 7th St. and Monroe, Jefferson and Jackson Sts., Drury and Rural Lns.

"Red" estimated several years ago that he walked about 12 miles a day from the beginning of his route to the end, making 485 stops. He served some hillside neighborhoods earlier in his career.

Vermillion started as a substitute carrier Sept. 9, 1920, and received his regular appointment Jan. 18, 1923.

He will be presented with a certificate of recognition and a letter of commendation from Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien on his final work day.

Although he expects to remain in East Liverpool at least throughout the winter, it is doubtful if "Red" plans to do too much walking. He and his wife, Eva, reside on LaCroft Ave.

They have two sons, Charles H. Vermillion of Columbus and Larry Vermillion of St. Clair Ave., and a daughter, Miss Carol Vermillion of Newington, Conn.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said no replacement has been named yet to take over the route.

Names Of 200 Drawn For Service On Jury

LISBON — A Columbiana County Jury Commission this morning picked at random the names of 200 county residents who are to serve as members of the Grand and petit juries.

The first 30 picked from a wheel containing a list of persons voting in primary and general elections are to serve as members of the January Grand Jury.

The selection, by Jury Commissioners James Gregg of Salem and Clifford Conley of East Liverpool, was made in the court of Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. The remaining 170 prospective jurors are slated for petit jury duty.

Rogers Pupil Party Slated

The Rogers Mothers' Club will hold its Christmas treat party Wednesday afternoon at 1 at the school, with the homeroom mothers in charge.

Treats will be distributed and Santa Claus will make an appearance.

The children are to bring a 39-cent gift for an exchange. Mothers who bring pre-school children are to have a gift for the exchange. Mrs. Frank Lewis Jr. is president.

Discussions on several events for the new year featured the meeting of the Beaver Local Future Homemakers of the high school at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the home economics rooms.

Miss Susan Jenkins, president, presided, assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson, a teacher and adviser.

A speaker will be obtained by Mrs. Ruth Jenkins, chapter mother, for the Jan. 10 meeting.

The members plan to sell candy in February and proceeds will be used for a mother-daughter banquet.

Other 1966 events include a trip to the Cleveland Flower Show on March 12, and the meeting on March 14, when a speaker on home economics will be featured.

The next meeting will be Jan. 10 at 7:30 p. m. with mothers of the members as guests.

Darlington Man Jailed By Palestine's Mayor

EAST PALESTINE — Elmer W. Cox, 39, of Darlington R. D. 2 was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six days in jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol at a hearing Saturday night in mayor's court here.

He also was fined $10 and costs for having improper license plates on his car. Cox was arrested early Saturday morning on E. Taggart St. He said he had been attending a Christmas party.

Active dry yeast should be dissolved in water that feels comfortably warm when a little of the water is dropped on the wrist.

Women Review Workers Hold Annual Holiday Fete

Christmas card baskets, filled with gifts and sample items, were favors at the annual dinner party of women employes of The Review Saturday night at Deramo's Restaurant in Midland. Place cards featured holiday figurines.

Covers were arranged for 20 at tables decorated with "fad of the month" centerpices made by Miss Sally Bussard. Given as prizes for games, they were won by Mrs. Barbara Carnes, Mrs. Gloria Crouse and Miss Roberta Pennybaker. One of the centerpieces were presented to Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw. He is publisher and business manager of the newspaper.

Mrs. Rosalyn Ernst won a prize for a crossword puzzle game in which names of the employes were used.

A program of impromptu skits and caroling followed, with Miss Pennybaker leading the singing.

Miss Phyllis Hackathorn, Miss Judy Groubert and Mrs. Ernst sang "White Christmas." With bells as props, Mrs. Daisy Vucinich, Mrs. Blanche Bennett and Mrs. Sue Beohm sang "Jingle Bells."

A singing skit, "We Three Cooks," was presented by Mrs. Evelyn Sanders, Miss Bussard and Mrs. Clara Hall. Mrs. Ann Claypool gave a reading, "Merry Christmas In Ten Pieces."

Using guitar accompaniment, Miss Fran Vuyakovich offered a hillbilly version of "Santa Claus is Coming To Town." Mrs. Betty Kapp gave her version of the "last - minute shopper."

Miss Pennybaker acted out and sang "The Twelve Days Of Christmas." "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer" was sung by Mrs. Marguerite Sayre, Mrs. Carnes and Mrs. Billie Martin, who used tambourines.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Miss Bussard, Miss Pennybaker and Mrs. Hall. Those assisting with the making of baskets were Miss Elaine Burns, Miss Groubert, Mrs. Ernst, Miss Pennybaker, Mrs. Claypool and Miss Bussard. Mrs. Rose Nuzzo led in the invocation.

Motorist Admits Charge

Sentencing Slated Dec. 27 For Lisbon Man In Crash

A Lisbon motorist is scheduled for sentencing Dec. 27 in Municipal Court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident early this morning at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.

Paul A. Deville, 22, of R. D. 4 pleaded guilty when arraigned before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an affidavit filed by Robert E. Williams, 1020 Riverview St.

Williams alleged that Deville "was involved in a collision with another vehicle and failed to stop and give the pertinent information required by law."

Patrolman D. K. Mumaw, who investigated, reported that Deville was pursued over 3rd St. and out the Freeway before being halted at the intersection of the Freeway and Route 170 by State Highway Patrolman R. L. Reed.

Deville refused to make a statement, Officer Mumaw said.

Williams, who was working at Al's Atlantic Station at the time of the crash at 1:05 a. m., said Deville was headed west on E. 3rd St., stopped at the intersection of E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., backed into his auto and then headed west without stopping.

Other witnesses to the accident were Thomas Hubbard of Lisbon R. D. 3 and William Rayl, 124 W. 2nd St. One was purchasing gas and the other is an attendant, police said.

Jack Lee Coleman, 934 Lincoln Ave., was fined $50 and costs by Judge Chertoff after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Coleman was cited by police Friday afternoon after his auto struck a 7-year-old East End girl at the intersection of Harvey Ave. and Bushwick St.

Larry C. Yost of R. D. 3 was fined $25 and costs on a similar charge filed by the State Highway Patrol after an accident at 4 p. m. Saturday on Route 170 near the intersection with Route 30. He also pleaded guilty.

Homer H. Fultz Jr., 540 Campground Rd., Wellsville, was ordered to pay court costs on a charge filed by the patrol alleging he failed to transfer license plates.

Fultz had pleaded guilty Dec. 13 but sentencing was continued until today to permit him to transfer the plates.

A hearing is scheduled Tuesday morning for George Alan Selmon, 100 Indiana Ave., Chester, on a charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 70-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited Wednesday by the patrol.

Edward S. Karovic of Mingo Junction posted a $17.50 bond for a hearing Wednesday on a charge filed by the patrol alleging he "drove left of center while approaching within 100 feet of an intersection." Karovic was cited Friday on Routes 7 and 30, the patrol said.

Gary Lee Householder of Hammondsville is due for a hearing Thursday on a charge filed by the patrol Saturday for operating a car with a defective muffler on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Driver Faces Charge After Area Mishap

An area motorist was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his car hit the rear of another on Route 170 four-tenths of a mile north of Route 30 Sunday at 4 p. m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Larry Charles Yost, 21, of R. D. 3 and Gus Elroy Cochran, 50, of Glenmoor.

Yost failed to halt and his auto hit the rear of the Cochran car, officers said. No one was injured.

The patrol still is checking on the driver of a 1960 station wagon that went through a fence and into a field at the property of Suzie Davis of Lisbon R. D. 1 on Route 518 three and a half miles west of Route 45.

Officers timed the mishap Sunday at 8:15 p. m. Officers said the driver apparently lost control on a curve and the car went off the highway.

Three suffered minor injuries in a head-on collision Saturday at 10:15 a. m. on Route 170 a half mile north of East Palestine.

The crash involved a 1965 coach operated by Andrew J. Hamilton, 57, of Petersburg and a 1955 sedan driven by Paul M. Mann, 35, of New Springfield.

Officers said Mann was headed south when he drove left of center and hit the oncoming Hamilton vehicle. Mann was cited for driving left of center.

Hamilton, Mann and Ruth M. Mann were treated by an East Palestine physician for minor injuries.

During Annual Band Party

Midland 'Queen,' 'King' Crowned

Miss Lynn Gruber was crowned queen and Michael Bailey, king, at the annual Christmas party and dance of the Midland High School band Saturday night at the music forum of the high school.

About 130 attended the event, which was sponsored by the Midland Band Boosters Club.

Miss Carol Matteo, right, a 1965 graduate of the high school and last year's queen, placed the crown on Miss Gruber's head.

Her attendants were Miss Josephine Gornak and Debbie Vignevich. Their escorts were Ronnie White and James Fantone.

On behalf of the band, Bailey, who is also president of the group, presented a gift to Robert C. Fleming, director.

Mrs. Frank Lavrusky, president of the Boosters, presented jackets to the senior members of the band.

The committee in charge was headed by Mrs. Frank Pedro, Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, Mrs. Milan Viakley, and Mrs. Lavrusky.

Fences For Reason

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The white plank fences characteristic of Kentucky's horse country are not erected for beauty alone. They protect temperamental Thoroughbreds who have poor vision and are apt to gallop into wire fences.

Auto Blaze Quelled

EAST PALESTINE — Police used a fire extinguisher to quell a minor blaze in a station wagon owned by Harold Powell of Boardman St., Unity, at 6:55 a. m. today on E. North Ave. Minor damage resulted to the wiring around the motor.

Courthouse To Close

LISBON — The Columbiana County Courthouse will be closed both Friday and Saturday in observance of Christmas, according to an order posted by the county commissioners.

Ohioan Saves 2, Engine Kills Him

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A visit with the folks in Ross County, a stroll across a trestle, an approaching train—then swift rescue work by Deldon Ohler.

But he couldn't save himself.

Ohler, 34, of Centerville was struck and killed by a freight train after managing to help his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Davis, to a beam below the tracks and to lower his nephew Jeff Sullivan, 5, to her.

Knocked onto a platform about 20 feet down, Ohler died in surgery at Chillicothe Hospital.

The accident scene was near the home of his wife's family five miles west of here.

JERUSALEM (AP) — The touring group of U.S. senators and their wives including Sen. and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is here for a pre-Christmas visit to holy sites. The seven senators met Israeli officials Sunday prior to today's sightseeing and tonight's departure for Rome.

Police Quiz Pair In Death Of Child

CLEVELAND (AP)—A West Side couple in whose home a 21-month-old boy was found dead were being held without charge for questioning by police today.

Police arrested the couple Sunday in their investigation of the death of Walter Martin. A hospital spokesman said the child suffered multiple cuts and bruises, and possible skull fracture and possibly other fractures.

Police said the couple, identified as John Scina, 53, and his wife, Mary, 56, had been caring for the child since last Sept. 3.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Correne Martin, 36, told detectives she left her son with the couple because of family troubles.

A teen - ager, who calls herself the voice of experience, has written to try to help the unhappy, nervous young lady who eats constantly, even though she is not hungry. With a feeling of compassion, the second teen - ager writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"The compulsive eater who 'cries up a storm' and stuffs on food, when teased by her parents about her weight, may be suffering from hypoglycemia. Believe me, this physically caused craving can produce crying jags, nervousness, apprehension, and all the other disturbances she wrote about."

With hypoglycemia the blood sugar drops far below the normal level two hours after a meal. This results in headaches, excessive feeling of intense hunger and depression. Anyone with this condition needs the help of a specialist.

—:—

HOWEVER, it should be pointed out that compulsive eating often stems from unsolved emotional problems. The troubled teen - ager felt goaded into stuffing and ate constantly even when not hungry. The young lady needs to have a heart-to-heart talk with her parents, so as to gain insight into why she reacts as she does.

True hypoglycemia is quite different and is often a complex problem. Laboratory tests are needed to diagnose the condition. The most important test is the five-to-six-hour glucose tolerance test, taken after a 12-hour fast.

Hypoglycemia means low blood sugar. While it might seem that anyone with this problem would need more sugar, in most cases this would be the worst possible diet. While this metabolic condition is sometimes inherited, it can be brought on by the overuse of sugar and other carbohydrate foods.

CORRECTIVE diet consists of the strict elimination of rapidly absorbed carbohydrates in order to obviate the sudden rise and sudden fall in blood sugar.

Specifically, the diet is high in protein, moderate in fat, low in starch and devoid of sugar and all sweets. A hearty breakfast is essential and food is given at more frequent intervals. The foods which stimulate the pancreas to secret insulin are strictly taboo for the hypoglycemic person. The following foods are eliminated: Coffee, sweet drinks, alcohol, pie, cake, pastries, sugar, syrup, honey and candy.

By leaving off the sweets and restricting the starchy foods that are causing the trouble, excessive hunger is eliminated. If you react abnormally to sweets, talk with your own doctor about it. He will prescribe a diet that features foods which burn more slowly.

City Needs Wise Men

ROSSFORD, Ohio (AP)—Rossford's City Council agreed to buy three wise men. "We can always use wise men," said Street Commissioner Joseph Duly in reporting plans to buy the wise men — and an ox and donkey — to complete the city's Christmas Nativity scene.

Thieves In This Case Undoubtedly Miffed

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Thieves who broke into salesman Don Elam's auto, taking a suit and other clothing worth $96 and sample cases of spring fashions in gloves and slippers, must be miffed.

Two of the sample cases contained ladies gloves and the other case was filled with fancy slippers.

All the gloves are for the left hand, and all the slippers are for the right foot.

"This discourages the professional thieves," Elam said, "but not the amateurs."

Super-Concentrated Foodstuffs Produced

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A small factory has begun production of super - concentrated foodstuffs for the growing world market.

The initial production line is set up for a daily output of 500 kilos of coffee, to be exported to the United States, Belgium, Italy and England for $3.80 per kilo. The factory can also condense shrimp, bananas, potatoes and other vegetables to one-fourth of their original weight.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I enjoy your column very much, and here's a hint just in time for Christmas:

Those odd earrings, or the discarded ones you no longer care to wear, make attractive ornaments for miniature Christmas trees.

Just clip them on as they are, or touch them up with gold or silver paint.

GRANNY.

DEAR GRANNY: This is a wonderful idea, but if one doesn't have enough unmatched earrings or ones they no longer wear, why not fill in with the still - wearable ones?

Natch, you wouldn't want to paint them, but it wouldn't hurt them a bit to grace the little Christmas tree during the holidays, and afterwards, put them back in your jewelry box.

I have a friend who uses her long strands of beads in place of tinsel rope. Pearls are especially lovely.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Being a rather short gal, I made shoe box drawers for my kitchen shelves.

After putting the lids on the bottoms of the boxes (for added strength), the boxes can be decorated with pretty adhesive-backed paper and labeled for their contents.

Each box contains different kinds of staples and foods. For instance, when I need my baking supplies, I simply reach for that shoe box and have all the necessary supplies compactly at hand.

They make for a much neater cupboard, and best of all, they make the hard-to-reach space at the back of the shelves as useable as that on the front edge.

ADA SCHNAIBLE.

—:—

DEAR HELOISE: For those who like extra cheese on their store - bought pizzas — and are unable to get the shredded kind — try using your potato peeler instead of a knife.

Saves time and fingers!

GENE CORNIER.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep your shortening fresh, open the can with a mechanical opener (this leaves smooth edges) and cover with the plastic lid from a coffee can of the same size. It will fit perfectly.

When using this method, do NOT open the shortening can with attached key. When you do, you remove the lip necessary to keep the plastic lid on tight.

CAROL ANN.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Mother says that tasting the food while you are preparing it is one of the fringe benefits of working in the kitchen!

DENISE FEDERMAN.

—:—

And it's especially true now with all the holiday goodies we make, isn't it?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Last year you told us to buy a package of whipped topping mix (the stuff that looks like whipped cream), beat it and add to store-bought eggnog.

Well, I did this, and it was a knockout at my party.

I added imitation rum flavoring, along with a bit of vanilla. All my guests said the nog was real perk and thought I had made it from scratch — and wanted the recipe.

I sure hope you publish this again for those who missed it.

MRS. M. H. TOWNSEND.

DEAR HELOISE: I solved the problem of lost mittens when my children play in the snow.

I took old cardigan sweaters and sewed each child's mittens to the sweater cuffs. The mitten-sweater goes on first, then the jacket or coat.

There is no way for the children to get their mittens off.

Now they have more fun in the snow, and no more half-frozen hands.

CATHIE WELLS.

115 Tombstone Upset By Lancaster Vandals

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Elwood Cemetery's tombstones were knocked into disarray over the weekend, some 115 of them overturned by vandalism.

Police nabbed two boys age 9 and 10 Saturday after a couple of markers were knocked down. Then Saturday night more than 100 stones were overturned, with 12 ruined beyond repair.

Youth Trapped In Car

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old Dayton youth lay in his car some five hours during the early Sunday chill after it missed a curve and plunged into a ravine. Finally discovered at 9 a.m. Sunday, Michael Hayes was taken from the wreck in Xenia and hospitalized here. He was in fair condition despite shock, exposure and head injuries.

Stanton Club Adds 'Cheer' With Blocks

Several area children will receive toy wooden block sets for Christmas this year, thanks to the efforts of the Industrial Arts Club at Stanton Local High School at Hammondsville.

The members of the club, cosponsored by Robert McCullough and William White, instructors, made 48 sets of the blocks to be given to groups who aid needy families.

The plain blocks are of different designs and can be used by children for buildings. Twenty - two of the boys cut out the sets in four hours.

Five sets will be distributed by the Boy Scout Troop in Irondale. Fifteen sets will be distributed through Wellsville American Legion Post 70 and the remainder will go to the Salvation Army here.

Among those donating lumber for the project were the Adkins Lumber Co., the Potters Lumber Co., Sandy's Builders, the Shamrock Lumber Co. and the Guess Manufacturing Co.

Like a sweet - sour gravy with braised beef? Thicken the braising liquid with crushed gingersnaps and add a little cider vinegar. If the gravy isn't sweet enough, stir in a little brown sugar.

First Anniversary Marked In 'Youth Harbor' Program

The first anniversary of the Youth Harbor at 519 Mulberry St. was observed Friday night with a special cake - cutting ceremony. About 200 attended.

Participating in the ceremony were Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey; Paul Zehnder, news editor at WOHI; Lawrence Zollinger, city auditor, and Mr. and Mrs. Christie Krafft, directors of the Youth Harbor.

The three - tier cake and a sheet cake, which centered the refreshment table, was served to the teen-agers.

The center is open Friday and Saturday nights from 8 to 11:30 p.m. and features a combo group and recordings for dancing music.

The group, comprised of four students at Oak Glen High School, includes John McLain, David McHenry, Chris Allen and Monty Cook.

The chaperone committee, besides the directors, includes Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne, Mrs. Corrine Talbott and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McKenzie. Serving as disc jockey is McKenzie. The center also has police escorts, Mrs. Krafft pointed out.

Plans are complete for holiday parties Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Trouble Finding Present For Friend?

Try Book As Yule Gift

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Having trouble finding the right Christmas present for a friend?

Why not give him a book?

Even if he already has a book, you can give him another.

Whether your friend reads the book is unimportant. Books have other than educational uses. They are great for curing insomnia, throwing at the cat and come in handy when you need to stand on something to reach a high shelf.

The next problem is what book to select. Naturally, that depends upon what kind of friend you are buying a present for. If he flunked out of Harvard, get him a book printed in large type and full of pictures. If he graduated from Yale get him one that has a portrait of a bosomy girl on the cover.

In general, however, the main thing is to be sure the book has a lot of pages and looks expensive. Be sure also that it has a hard cover.

As a tentative guide, here—all in fun—are a few books one might send to people well-known in the news.

"The Hour of Giving"—Jack Benny.

"Up the Down Staircase" — Leo Durocher.

"At Play in the Fields of the Lord" — Billy Graham.

"Yes I Can" — Richard M. Nixon.

"The Source" — Lyndon B. Johnson.

"The Man with the Golden Gun" — Robert S. McNamara.

"World Without Sun" — any slum landlord.

"Lord of the Flies" — your friendly neighborhood exterminator.

"Never Call Retreat" — Norman Thomas.

"Manchild in the Promised Land" — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"Favor the Runner" — Adam Clayton Powell.

"A Soldier Speaks" — any trooper in Viet Nam.

"All Things Considered" — Harold E. Stassen.

"The Ambassador" — Bob Hope.

"The Light of the Past" — Barry Goldwater.

"Girl on the Run" — Lady Bird.

"Company's Coming!" — Ho Chi Minh.

"An Odor of Sanctity" — Charles de Gaulle.

"2,000 Insults for All Occasions" — comedian Jack E. Leonard.

"The Available Man" — Hubert H. Humphrey.

"O Strange New World" — Dean Rusk.

"Hope for Our Times" — buy this one for yourself.

Snow Covers Lakes Region

By The Associated Press

Snow blanketed much of the Great Lakes region today, while from northeastern Ohio to Vermont flurries tapered off after considerable accumulations in upper New York State.

Hardest hit by the snowfall Sunday were the Adirondack foothills. The hamlet of Highmarket reported 25 inches and other cities in the snow belt received from 12 to 15 inches.

Because few roads cross this part of the state, no major problems resulted from the heavy snowfall.

A slick coat of new snow covered most sections from northern Illinois through Minnesota.

In the far South, generous rains soaked much of Florida. Orlando reported more than an inch.

In the Far West, low temperatures continued today to be the rule. Much of eastern Nevada experienced its fifth day of below-zero readings. It was 11 below at Elko, Nev.

People In News

OLD CHATHAM, N.Y. (AP) —The Virginia whose childhood question about Santa Claus inspired a famous editorial 68 years ago is especially aware of the Christmas spirit this year.

Two months ago Mrs. Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas, 76, fled the burning home she shared with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Temple, and her family.

They were sheltered first by neighbors, then by relatives. Finally, a couple offered the rental of a handsomely restored old farmhouse.

As an 8 - year - old, Virginia O'Hanlon wrote to the New York Sun, asking for the truth about Santa Claus. In an editorial Francis P. Church replied:

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist..."

"We have really experienced the spirit of that editorial," said Mrs. Douglas. "We know that love and generosity exists."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedienne Phyllis Diller has separated from her husband of less than three months, a spokesman announced.

The spokesman said entertainer Warde Donovan moved out of the couple's West Los Angeles home last week. Miss Diller and her four children by a previous marriage will continue to live there.

No reason was given for the separation. Miss Diller divorced Sherwood Diller in St. Louis last September, ending their 25-year marriage. She married Donovan Oct. 7.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Jong Sung, an 8-year-old Korean boy, will have a brighter Christmas this year because of 114 "adopted fathers" at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Jong Sung was chosen as a foster child by members of the 19th company of the brigade of midshipmen under the Foster Parents' Plan.

A special Christmas package is going to Seoul, including, among other things, a sewing machine to help his mother supplement the meager income she now gets from selling homemade bread to support herself and four children.

Water shortages have created new interest in the nation's 25,000 dowsers — men who claim to find wells by using a divining rod. Recent tests, however, indicate that dowsers find water less than half as often as they would by chance alone.

Industrialist Taken

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Andrew Wells Robertson, 85, Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s chairman and chief executive officer from 1929 to 1951, died Saturday. He joined Westinghouse as chief executive officer after working two years as president of the Philadelphia Co., operator of Pittsburgh's utilities. Having retired as Westinghouse's top man, Robertson remained a director until 1961.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Imagination Helps Infant's Progress

During recent years numerous researches have been carried on in creativity and creative thinking in children, chiefly children of the elementary school age. An obvious element in all creativity is imagination. In the published reports of some of these researches creativity was reported as highest in the child from three to five years of age. It began to decline after the youngster enters school. In this column and in my early books I maintained that this is true.

Dr. Garry Myers

I based my conclusion on elaborate notes I still have, which Mrs. Myers and I kept on the emerging of imagination in two of our own children when between their early second years till nearly five.

These children had been read to a great deal from the middle of their second years. Some of our notes appeared in my first book, "The Learner and His Attitude" (1925), and my second book, "The Modern Parent" (1930), both now out of print.

LATELY I dug up the original notes recorded between the years 1913 and 1920. As one reads them recorded on successive days, the gradual development of creative imagination is revealed. My guess is that this type of evaluation holds for practically all young children.

I am reprinting just a few of them for their scientific value in the study of child development and for the help they may afford any parent to appreciate and enjoy the little child from one to three or four years of age.

When two days under the age of two — With two sticks crossed, she said, "Knit." She pushed several times the baby carriage on the floor saying, "Go outdoors."

On the 14th day of her third year — With her little car, started through the room with, "I go to school; bye." Later said, "I home."

A few days later—When she was put to bed said, while pointing to the covers, "Dog under there." Later it was a kitty, then two doggies and a kitty. She played she was eating an apple picked up from the floor. Took several bites of it. No apple present. Shoveled imaginary snow with real shovel into a real pail. Frequently "washes" imaginary dishes at the table.

—:—

AGE TWO years, one month—Fed an imaginary woodpecker several times. Talked to imaginary dog or kitty. Carried an imaginary tray about, asking us to take some candy. Often insists she is a dog.

Age of two years 10 months —When I asked her where my fountain pen was she said, "Here is a pen for you," handing me a thread.

Age three years, four-and-a-half months—She played that a suitcase was a house where she cared for her doll; a barbershop where the doll's hair was cut; ice cream parlor where she fed the doll ice cream with a pencil for a spoon; and a store where she sold things and made bills on paper with pencil. The same suitcase became all four of these in about 20 minutes.

His notes were recorded by "days."

Day 660 — Pretended picking up something from the bed and putting it into a real glass of milk, and that he was giving Mother something from a real envelope.

Day 664 — Picked up a real shovel and began natural shoveling movements and then dumped the real pail as if dirt were in it.

Day 781 — Often puts food to the mouths of toy animals.

—:—

DAY 814 — Said he wanted to telephone (no telephone near). His mother held her hand to his mouth and told him to hold his to her ears. He put his own hand to his mouth and telephoned Ne-Ne.

Day 870 — Plays more with trains he makes from blocks than with real toy trains.

Day 965 — Tickled Rickety Ann's chin (rag doll) and told her to smile. "Rickety Ann don't feel good."

Day 981 — He wanted to play ball. When I could not, he got Rickety Ann, put her at one end of room and he rolled ball from the other. "Rickety Ann can't catch ball."

My bulletins, "Beginnings of Imagination," "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination," and "Enjoy Your Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Viet War Set As Key Issue In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are in general agreement that the dominant issue in the session convening Jan. 10 will be the Viet Nam war.

Sharing the spotlight in what may be a long and bitter session will be labor legislation, the administration's "Great Society" programs and perhaps taxes.

Many members took advantage of the fall recess to visit Viet Nam. They returned with conflicting opinions on how the war is being conducted and their differing views should touch off sharp debate.

There is little that Congress can do about how the war is being fought, except to appropriate money to foot the bill. But the fact that it is being waged and is costing a lot of money will be reflected in consideration of nonmilitary legislation.

"One of the basic issues," said Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, House Republican leader, "will be the need to curtail nondefense programs. We are face to face with the decision between guns and butter. The war is real and we must pay for it."

"But some other programs," Ford added in an interview, "while perhaps worthy, do not have the same top priority. We must take a hard look at the 'Great Society' measures rammed through during the recent session. They are expensive and will continue to be expensive. We Republicans are going to try to cut down some of this unnecessary spending.

"We are going to solidly oppose any new taxes," Ford said.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, took a somewhat similar stand on taxes.

Said Mills: "If federal government spending is held under reasonable restraint, the growth of the economy will both make possible and require periodic tax reductions."

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said in an interview he looked for no division in Congress over foreign policy.

"The people of the country are united behind the President's leadership in foreign policy, particularly in Viet Nam," McCormack said.

McCormack said he believed major domestic issues would center on legislation to increase and broaden minimum wage coverage, improve the unemployment compensation program and "to strengthen America by carrying out important programs enacted last year."

Another labor bill, the House-passed measure to ban state laws prohibiting union shop labor contracts, will be a sizzling issue in the Senate. It was dropped in that branch this year after a short, but effective, filibuster but is still alive.

Store Clerk Wounded In Robbery At Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A gunman shot a woman clerk in the right shoulder during a holdup Sunday night at a Lawson store and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

The clerk, Mrs. Janice Shutts of Akron, was taken to city hospital where attendants said her condition was not serious.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been a police officer for more than 19 years. The problem I'm writing about is one I've had to deal with every year when I've pulled Christmas duty. I'm talking about the Christmas Eve family fight.

We get more calls from neighbors to go out and settle family fights on Christmas Eve than on any other night in the year, including New Year's.

You walk into a house which is gaily decorated, the tree is aglow, beautifully wrapped gifts are under the tree, and the husband and wife are throwing things at each other. The kids are crouched in the corners scared out of their wits.

About 99 per cent of the time you are able to patch things up and nobody is arrested. But the holiday has been spoiled for everyone.

I wish parents could learn to control their drinking, their tempers and their tensions so their children might remember Christmas as a happy time instead of a nightmare when the police had to come to break up a fight between Mom and Dad. Thank you.—OFFICER CHRISTMAS BLUES.

-:-

Dear Officer: All of us are in your debt for an eloquent letter. Peace in the home and good will toward one another should be an integral part of family life, not only during the holiday season but every day of the year.

Monkey Business

Dear Ann: A relative of Charles Darwin appeared on a radio program recently and revived an argument in our house that I hoped was dead. About five years ago my husband and I really went 'round and 'round about this and now he's at it again.

My husband has scads of literature to support the theory that man descended from the monkey. He has shown me charts and pictures of skulls which describe the evolutionary periods and I must admit that some of the first men and some of the monkeys look like they are pretty close relatives.

I'm a religious person, however, Ann, and my early teachings make it impossible for me to accept this Darwin stuff. I would appreciate it if you would give me some support so I can convince him he is wrong.—FIGHT RENEWED.

Dear Renewed: Save your breath to cool your soup, Lady. You won't change your husband's mind. He'll just show you more charts.

The origin of man has been a favorite argument for ages and the scientific findings are all on HIS side. Considering what man has done to himself these last 50 years I think the monkeys have a right to complain.

Double Action

Dear Ann: Our 11-year-old son left his bicycle in the driveway which we share with the neighbors. Our garages are side by side in the back.

The woman next door is the world's rottenest driver, as well as the meanest person alive. I'm sure she ran over the kid's bike just to teach him a lesson.

Right after she did it she had the gall to drag the pieces of bike over to our house and yell up a storm that our kid almost gave her a heart attack. She said, "I thought for a minute I had hit the boy and I almost died by the wheel."

Then she began to holler about irresponsible kids and terrible parents.

My husband says she should buy our boy a new bike. What does the law say?—BURNED APLENTY.

-:-

Dear Burned: I'm no lawyer, but I can tell you what I say. I say your son doesn't deserve another bike until he learns to take care of one. And it's up to his parents to teach him.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Police Seek Man In Wounding Of Teen-Aged Pair

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A teenage couple was abducted from the shopping center where they had stopped for pizza, then were shot and left for dead at separat spots out of town Saturday night.

The hunt for the gunman was still on today while Marcella Rutt, 18, lay in critical condition and Jerry Morehead, 19, also was under treatment for serious wounding.

The couple drove over from Christiansburg, their home across the Miami County line in Champaign County, and came into Troy to visit the market.

They were able to tell officers an unidentified man left a 1955 station wagon and forced his way into their 1965 auto.

The intruder made them drive out into the country, where it was believed he tried to assault the girl, then shot her first and shot the boy afterward.

Miss Rutt was found along Ohio 504 and Morehead on Troy-Piqua Road, at spots three or four miles apart and about four miles out of town.

The youth's car was found at the shopping center, where the abductor evidently returned to his own vehicle to flee.

Champagne Sold, Red Cross Nets $882

LONDON (AP) — Three cases of champagne auctioned at the Sporting Club in London's Knightsbridge raised 300 guineas ($882) for Red Cross funds. It was nonvintage Lanson Black Label.

"That's 8 pounds 15 shillings ($22.40) a bottle, making it just about the most expensive bubbly in London," commented Capt. Mark Cogley, licencee of the Goat Tavern in Mayfair.

"The ordinary retail price of such a bottle is just over 30 shillings ($4.20)."

The buyers of the champagne insisted on anonymity.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Princess says the Voodoo man has no power over real life people. When the Voodoo man comes to Zabbazara Mr. D suggests he and the boy save the others by pretending to be Santa and the Princess.

CHAPTER 13

Santa and the Princess rushed back to the palace with Mr. D and the little boy.

Mr. D put on Santa's long red coat and his red britches and his black boots. He stuffed two fat pillows in the front of his trousers and one behind. Santa got out the Princess's paint box and painted Mr. D's cheeks bright red. He put an extra bright dab on the tip of Mr. D's nose.

The little boy dug in his pockets and handed Mr. D two balls of bubble gum. Mr. D put one ball in each cheek and his face was as plump and rosy as Santa's.

THE PRINCESS got out her best white feather hat and snipped away at the feathers until they were shaped just right. Mr. D fastened the hat under his chin with an elastic band. When he was done not even Santa could tell which one was who or who was which one.

Then it was the little boy's turn. The Princess gave him her most elegant gown — white and gold with a red vlevet train. He put it on backwards and sideways and even upside down before he got it on right. Every step he took he tripped over the velvet train until the Princess showed him how he could carry it over his arm if he absolutely must.

Finally she put a wig of golden curls on his head.

"You look beautiful!" exclaimed the Princess. "I only wish I looked so!" She looked down at herself in dismay, for she was wearing the little boy's discarded clothing.

"You're still the Princess," said the boy shyly. "You're still — "

—:—

HE WAS interrupted by Mr. D, who was standing guard at the window. "Here he comes! He is just walking through the gates!"

Santa and the Princess fled from the room. The little boy climbed on the Princess's throne. He arranged the velvet train around his feet. Mr. D sat on a stool at the side of the throne. Quaking inside, they waited for the Voodoo man to appear.

A feather from his whiskers tickled Mr. D's nose. He tried to blow it away. It only tickled more. Finally he just had to sneeze and he did —an enormous "Kerchoo!" — so enormous that both balls of bubble gum shot out of his mouth and clear across the room.

At this very moment the Voodoo man appeared in the door and was struck twice in the eye by the flying gum.

He looked so funny and so surprised the little boy couldn't help laughing, though he was shaking with fright. The Voodoo man was furious. He scowled.

"You won't laugh long for I have you in my power."

"Laugh now. But you won't laugh long, for I have you in my power."

—:—

MR. D cleared his throat and said in a quivering squeak, "You aren't so big! Your spell didn't work on me in Santa Land!"

"It worked on all your workers. Now I'll take care of you and the Princess together, and Santa Land will be no more."

The little boy was shaking all over but he thought he ought to say something so he said, "Phoey!" in a very loud voice.

The Voodoo man's face turned white with rage. He rubbed his brows and muttered to himself. He brushed one foot hard against the other and turned around three times in one spot.

Then he pointed at Mr. D and the boy and said, "Marshmallows!"

Closer Man-Machine Relationship Sought

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — A closer man - machine relationship is being sought by Sylvania Electronic Systems, under a $54,000 contract from the Air Force.

The company is comparing present hand - operated devices used for feeding information into computers. It will recommend how each — keyboards, light-sensing pencils, electrical writing surfaces — can be used more effectively.

The year-long study will include extensive performance testing by human operators. "Input devices available today can be used more effectively," Dr. James E. Storer said, "if they are properly matched both to the requirements of the job and the capabilities of the operator. Our study is aimed at achieving a closer man-machine relationship."

Police Quiz Trio After Murder Of Toledo Druggist

MONROE, Mich (AP)—Sheriff's officers here jailed two men and a woman early today an hour after the fatal shooting of a druggist in Toledo, Ohio.

Witnesses told police two men held up John R. Taylor, 66, for the contents of his cash register. Taylor was shot in the shoulder and the bullet entered his lung, according to a coroner's report.

A witness, Mrs. Hazel Reiter, 48, of Toledo, was shot in the arm as she attempted to aid Taylor outside the store.

Monroe County sheriff's officers said they stopped a car containing the three persons on 175 north of the Michigan-Ohio state line. They said no shots were exchanged.

Toledo police questioned the woman, identified as Rosey Redd, 36, Detroit, and said the two men would be questioned later today.

The men gave their identities as Samuel A. Ishman, 40, with no address, and Alton William McCullough, 36, of Detroit.

Job Project OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—On-the-job training projects for 137 unemployed persons in Cleveland and 150 in Warren, Ohio, have gained Labor Department approval. The Cleveland project, using $4,288 in Manpower Development and Training Act Funds, will be conducted at T. R. W. Inc.; Warren's by the Warren Urban League with $84,498 in federal aid.

Vandals Damage 2 Akron Schools

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Vandals broke into two schools in the Akron area over the weekend and did considerable damage at both places, police and sheriff's deputies reported.

Police said vandals at Inness Junior High School here ransacked the offices and clinic, smashed fixtures, upset furniture, broke typewriters and adding machines, tore holes in walls and ceilings and wrote obscenities on the walls.

After surveying damage done by vandals at Erwine Junior High Schools in Portage Lakes, sheriff's deputies said the school was a "mess."

Deputies said the vandals went through every room upsetting furniture and doing other damage. They said firehoses were turned and left running until water ran out the doors.

LITTLE BUILDING "ON THE DIAMOND"

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Subway Worker

Television is the character actor's best friend, according to Nehemiah Persoff, who plays everything from priests to merciless dictators on the medium.

Hal Humphrey

Since movies were forced into overseas production to keep ahead of television with more realism, they also use real people from whatever locale the movie is being shot," says Persoff, who lost a role in "Von Ryan's Express" when producer Saul David decided to film it in Europe.

-:-

"IF THEY WERE casting 'Gunga Din' today, they would get a real Hindu, or whatever he was, instead of using a painted - up Sam Jaffe. There isn't a good character role that can't be filled by the real thing, including a red-headed half-caste son of a Japanese mother and Dutch father," Persoff adds.

"But television can't afford this luxury. There is no time in this medium to pick and choose character players, so they get me or somebody else and turn us into whatever is needed — A Turk, a Southern plantation owner or Mussolini."

Six years ago Persoff played Il Duce in a "Playhouse 90" production called "The Killers of Mussolini." He got the role from producer - writer A. E. Hotchner after sending him a photo of himself as Mussolini.

-:-

"IT WAS a snapshot taken of me when I was in the Army. My head had been shaved, and I did an imitation of Mussolini in the barracks one day while one of my buddies took the picture," Persoff recalls.

Producer Hotchner already knew Persoff from the fine portrayal he'd done of Pablo, the peasant guerrila, in another "Playhouse 90," Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Dictators would seem to be a specialty with Persoff. In addition to Mussolini, he has portrayed Fidel Castro and assorted other dictators, including a comedy type on "Gilligan's Island," and he once wound up in Ben Casey's hospital as an exile with no country and a pain in the head.

-:-

HE WILL BE the dictatorial leader of an outlaw gang in a "Legend of Jesse James" episode next Monday but a week before that (tonight) Persoff makes a 180-degree turn and plays a priest in "A Man Called Shenandoah."

Either way he never gets the girl, a fact of life which sometimes begins to bug some character actors, but not this one.

"If I didn't have a good home life," says Persoff, "I might worry over such things, but you see I know I've won the girl."

The girl in this case is Tia, a distant cousin of Persoff's, whom he met and married in Israel on a return visit there after the war. It was his first time back since his family moved to the United States when Persoff was 9.

-:-

HIS FIRST JOB after leaving school was in 1939 as a maintenance electrician for the New York subway. One night a friend of the family took young Nicky, as his friends call Persoff, to an amateur theater and pressed him into duty as an extra.

"The experience did something to me, but, not knowing the ethics of the theater, I became a terrible pest. Before long I was telling the director what he was doing wrong," Persoff recalls.

The neophyte actor lost his first break when playwright Maxwell Anderson cast him for a role in his "Eve of St. Mark." After the 10th day of rehearsal, Persoff passed out on stage from exhaustion because he still was hanging on to his job at the subway.

-:-

"I COULDN'T feel sure I had a future in the theater. Mr. Anderson thought I had, but refused to advise me. So I kept my job and gave up the play, but still did some amateur theater on days off. Then the war came and I was in the Army for three years."

Persoff experienced limited success in the theater after the war, but did not part with his electrician's tool box until in 1955 he made his first movie, "The Harder They Fall," with Humphrey Bogart (it was Bogart's last), and felt for the first time he might make it as an actor.

Recently he was cast as a co-hero, believe it or not, in a pilot film for a projected TV series. But Persoff now feels he wants to be a movie producer. He and Ed Spiegel have bought their first property, Henry Roth's novel, "Call It Sleep," and they hope to be in production by next summer.

Quick homemade soup: mix canned cooked dried white bean with diced leftover ham and canned beef broth. Add fresh flavor with minced parsley and finely grated carrot.

Engaged In 'Teens' And Married In 80's

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teen-agers Josephine Smith and Thomas Zack Hayes became engaged at the turn of the century. They were married Oct. 3.

The couple went their separate ways after the engagement was broken in their hometown of Smithville, Tenn. Hayes became a farmer at Enid, Okla. Josephine married in Tennessee.

As the years passed, Hayes' wife died. So did Josephine's husband.

They rekindled the romance when they met again last April.

Mrs. Haynes, now 81, said, "Marriage makes you younger. We don't feel our age."

"She is so right," grinned Hayes, 83.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 4 to 7 degrees above normal. Representative daily normal highs and lows are Cincinnati 42-27, Columbus 38-22, Cleveland 35-21. Warmer Tuesday and Wednesday then colder latter part of week. Precipitation expected to average one-quarter inch liquid as intervals of snow north and rain or snow south occurring near midweek and again toward the end.

A low - fat diet failed to prevent heart attacks in a recent British study of 264 patients. The findings also suggest that a high intake of sweets may be more significant than a normal amount of fats in the diet.

Peterson's Suggestions

Cold Weather Tips Listed For Water Lines, Meters

Drawing on experience gained in many years as head of the distribution crew, Harold Peterson, city water department superintendent, today issued a series of tips to East Liverpool householders for safeguarding lines and meters in freezing weather.

Peterson commented that many persons have the mistaken idea that frozen pipes burst when they are thawed. Actually, the pipe is broken at the time of the freezing, but the release of water does not come until it is thawed, he explained.

When pipes are frozen, householders always should be ready to shut off the main supply valve, he said. If the valve is not shut off, they should be familiar with its location and certain that it turns easily so that it can be closed, if necessary, he said.

"When the piping system is frozen, the first and most important item is to know where the main shutoff valve is located and to determine that it turns off and on easily," Peterson said. "Then the hot water faucets should be opened and left open until the pipes are thawed."

When thawing pipes, a torch with an open flame should be used only in places where the pipe is not close to any partition, burlap or paper pipe coverings or in an enclosed place of any type, the superintendent said. Several serious fires have resulted from carelessness in thawing water pipes with a torch or other open flame, he commented.

Most householders in their first experience with frozen pipes sometimes are disappointed when they call a plumber and find he must answer a dozen more emergency calls first, Peterson said.

"If you are fortunate enough to be able to talk to the plumber on the telephone, listen to his advice closely and follow his instructions," Peterson urged.

Electric pipe thawing equipment is being used widely, taking the place of slow and expensive steam and hot water processes, Peterson said. He said householders with frozen lines should open hot water faucets, then call the plumber or electrician.

As soon as the pipe is thawed and the water is running, the hot water should be turned off and the cold water should be turned on, he said. The cold water should be allowed to run until the line is clear of ice, he added.

Water meters should be kept in a warm place, if possible, Peterson said. If there is no warm spot for the meter, it should be wrapped in insulated material and kept free from drafts, he said.

Fire Hits Car Agency

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Belmont County's rash of business-place fires continued when an automobile agency here burned Saturday night. Six new cars were saved by breaking out the showroom window and driving them out, but Clifford Motors Co.'s building was destroyed by the blaze that whipped out of the garage and tire shop.

Junior Editors Quiz on ENGLISH SAILORS

QUESTION: Why were English sailors called "limeys"?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Old time sailing ships were much slower than the fast vessels of today. Voyages between distant ports would often stretch out for months. Under these circumstances, the fresh food stored on a ship before sailing would soon be used up. The crew would have to fall back on the stores of salted meat and hard ship biscuit, foods carried in bulk because they lasted so well. But the salt beef and hardtack diet lacked important food elements—the vitamins, especially present in fresh fruits and vegetables. The result was that seamen on long voyages frequently contracted scurvy, a dangerous disease which could cause the death of many men before port was reached and fresh food obtained. To counteract this danger, the British navy in 1795 began to carry crates of limes on their ships and to give each sailor a drink of lime juice every day, limes being especially rich in vitamin C, which prevents scurvy. Soon many British ships were using limes, and British sailors became called "limeys" because of their daily ration of lime juice.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Try some lime juice as a change from lemon or orange juice. It has a very tart taste, but if you put in some sugar it will make a most refreshing drink. These days, of course, you don't need lime juice to counteract scurvy; our well balanced, modern diets, with plenty of fruits and vegetables, take care of that.

Crews Clear Tracks After Train Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Limited, on its New York - Cleveland-Columbus-Cincinnati run, was four hours behind schedule Saturday and barreling down the tracks.

The earth-mover operator at a freeway construction site off the regular highway at suburban Worthington, just north of here, drove up to the tracks.

The flagman directing construction vehicle traffic had stepped into a shack to use the telephone. Without his signal, none of the work vehicles was supposed to cross the railroad.

The earth-mover, though, started across.

"All of a sudden I could feel the train start to telescope," said Robert Henkel of Hamilton.

"I headed for the floor. I thought sure it was going to turn over."

The train had slammed the construction vehicle to pieces. The engine pancaked. The next two cars, baggage units, flipped on their sides.

But the following cars, a half-dozen coaches, though tilted askew stayed partly upright. The last few coaches didn't derail.

The road-building vehicle operator, Dana Bolin, 48, of Athens, was killed. His was the only death in the accident.

The engineer, Harold Capus, 53, of Parma, and fireman, Robert Codrington, 47, of Sheffield Lake, were banged up considerably. But they were in fair condition today in a Columbus hospital.

About 30 of the 113 passengers aboard were injured but none seriously.

Damage to the train was estimated in six figures.

The day-after scene was a sightseers' picnic, but workers managed to push through the crowds and clear the tracks. Some of the wrecked cars, however, still lay along the tracks Sunday night.

Ohio Boy Beaten By Companion In School Burglary

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—An Akron youth has told police that he was knocked down, robbed and abandoned by his accomplice in breaking into the Willoughby-Eastlake South High School, where he was found badly cut.

Robert Kyle, 18, called police from the school early Sunday. When officers arrived they found him lying on the floor near the telephone and bleeding.

Police said he had suffered cuts of the right foot and left cheek when he broke a window to enter the building. He was reported in satisfactory condition at Lake County Memorial Hospital West here.

Kyle was charged with forcible entry of an uninhabited dwelling and a warrant was issued for the arrest of his companion, an 18-year-old Painesville youth, police said. Both youths were absent without official leave from the Navy, officers added.

Police said the youths broke several windows and doors and rifled desks at the school, but it was not determined if anything was taken pending an inventory by school officials today.

Wife Leaps To Safety As Fire Sweeps Home

CINCINNATI (AP)—The wife of a business executive leaped to safety Sunday when fire roared through their $50,000 home in the Clifton area.

Mrs. Helen Richards, 36, whose husband, Gilbert, is owner of a valve manufacturing company, suffered first and second degree burns and minor injuries in her jump from a second floor window. She was in good condition.

An 8-year-old daughter escaped unhurt. Mr. Richards was out of town.
